Britain Eagerly Awaiting Arrival Of U. S. Official

Hoping U. S. Treasury Secretary Can Aid Solution Of Economic Crisis

CRIPPS' PROPOSALS BEING STUDIED

By CHARLES A. SMITH (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, July 7.—British officials eagerly awaited today the arrival of U. S. Treasury Secretary John M. Snyder hoping that Uncle Sam can produce a miracle to cancel the need for a "super austerity" program.

The program outlined by chancellor of the exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps is believed certain to precipitate a showdown between the labor government and labor unions and some party officials are glum over the program's effect on next year's elections.

No Rapid Solution Seen

Unless Snyder brings the answer with him when he arrives from Paris where he discussed the economic situation with French officials, British government leaders see no rapid solution to the dollar tangle.

They predict that the Anglo-American talks and the subsequent discussions among Britain and the commonwealth nations only can produce some leads for further discussion during the coming months. Snyder will arrive Friday with W. Averell Harriman, European roving ambassador for the Marshall Plan. They will meet with Cripps and other ROP economists experts Friday afternoon.

Snyder is slated to fly to Brussels Sunday.

Minister of Fuel and Power Hugh Gaitskill said in a speech following Cripps' grim review to Commons yesterday that "we don't know what the election result will be." He told a miners' meeting in Ales:

"We don't know whether you will be able to ask me to your conference next year."

The city is to have an additional trailer camp in the Butler avenue section, it is noted by PA New. Workmen are carrying out preliminary work in preparation for the installation of the camp to be located at Butler and Maryland avenues. Much brush and small trees were cleared from the lot some time ago.

Almost the first time since its installation no flowers were noticed on the war monument on the court house lawn on Tuesday. Daily flowers are placed at the base of the memorial in honor of those who laid down their lives for their country.

Nation's Heat Wave Not Yet Subsiding

(By International News Service)

More hot and humid weather was forecast for the nation today, upsetting hopes for quick relief from the heat wave which has gripped many states during the past week.

High humidity and temperatures were predicted, with the Southwest first in line for the scorching weather.

Temperatures there were again slated to climb past the 100-degree mark.

Hottest Is 107
The weather bureau in Chicago reported Blythe Cal., was the nation's hottest spot yesterday with a thermometer reading of 107.

Phoenix, Ariz., reported 104-degree weather and Laredo, Tex., was steaming close behind with 103.

Hoffman May Fly To Europe In Trade Crisis

Marshall Plan Director May Make Trip To Study Fiscal Situation

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—Marshall Plan Director Paul G. Hoffman may fly to Europe next week to study the fiscal and trade crisis.

This was disclosed today by Economic Cooperation Administration officials who said that the ECA chief will stop off at Paris, London and some of the other European capitals on a three-week visit.

Hoffman is expected to be accompanied by Richard Bissell, his chief foreign trade expert.

The ECA chief is understood to be desirous of discussing the whole economic program in western Europe with top American and foreign economists who are wrestling with the problem of how Europe can earn more dollars.

Hoffman will follow in the footsteps of Treasury Secretary Snyder who already is in Europe and who is due to open international talks Friday with Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the British exchequer.

Sir Stafford pointed up Britain's financial crisis Wednesday by prohibiting dollar spending for at least three months or until a long-term remedy is worked out among the U. S., Canada and other nations of the British commonwealth. Secretary of State Acheson told a news conference that Snyder's current visit to Europe is the beginning of America's plan to render assistance to the British.

Will Not Devalue Pound

Reports have circulated that Snyder would try to induce Britain to devalue the pound in an effort to increase exports. Cripps, however, said that the pound will not be cut, at least for the present.

Hoffman also is known to feel that devaluation of European currencies, notably the British pound, may help solve the trading problem. But he also is strongly in favor of price cuts and active campaigns to get European goods in competition with American products in the U. S. market.

Lightning Kills Two Wednesday

(BULLETIN)

New Brighton And Washington District Residents Are Victims Of Storm

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—(INS)—Two persons were killed by lightning, and four others were injured, in a severe electrical storm that hit the Pittsburgh district late yesterday afternoon.

The storm, bringing temporary relief from the heat wave, caused several thousand dollars damage. One man was slightly injured when rain collapsed the roof of an East Pittsburgh theater at a loss of $20,000.

Killed by lightning were Robert Fowler, 25, who was struck at Wise's Grove near New Brighton, Pa., and Howard A. Guest, 14, of R. D. A2, Eighty-Four, near Washington, Pa.

Fowler and the four injured were caught by a single bolt which struck a group of trees as they were preparing for a picnic at Wise's Grove.

The Guest boy was struck while helping a neighbor harvest hay.

District Gets Some Relief In Heat Wave

(By International News Service)

Scattered showers brought temporary relief from the hot spell in western Pennsylvania today. The predicted high for today is in the mid-80s, compared with temperatures that topped the 90 degree mark for the past four days.

The forecast calls for considerable cloudiness, scattered showers and not so warm today.

A violent electrical storm late yesterday claimed two lives and caused several thousand dollars damage in the district.

One man was killed and four other persons injured when a bolt of lightning hit near Washington, Pa., as he was helping harvest hay. The weatherman said the showers will bring only temporary relief, however. He foresees a return of warm and humid weather for several days, with temperatures above 90 degrees.

Pegler Testifies Before Congress On Labor Unions

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—Columnist Westbrook Pegler told congress today that American labor unions are infiltrated with "despots, criminals and Communists".

Pegler, in testimony before a house labor subcommittee, declared that this infiltration has reached the point where the rank and file members of unions have little or no voice in their own affairs.

He charged that the government has ducked the problem of Communist union leadership "for political reasons," adding:

"Yet we have union after union completely dominated by Communists and pro-Communists and run by them."

One Of Many Examples

He said that one of many examples of this is the United Electrical Workers' Union. He told the subcommittee:

"It does not require any great imagination to visualize what would happen in the event of trouble with Russia if a Communist-dominated (Continued on Page Two)

See Some Hope Of End Of Drought In Northeast

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 7.—(INS)—Scattered showers along the northeastern seaboard gave farmers hope today of a swift end to the 41-day-old drought which has already cost $75 million in crop losses.

Weather bureau officials were chary about declaring the drought at an end on the basis of the scattered Wednesday rainfall that measured up to an inch in some places.

The showers were spasmodic and fell only in scattered areas. In most places where rain fell, there was not enough to soak through to the roots of the parched crops.

Farmers were inclined to be optimistic, saying that the first rainfall may be the forerunner of heavier showers that will shatter the costly dry spell.

Public Housing Bill Is Nearing Final Action

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—The long-battled-over public housing bill today went into the last lap of its race for enactment this session.

House-Senate conferees adopted a conference compromise—largely the Senate version of the bill, but with an added provision requiring that cities get rid of one slum unit for each new public housing unit built with Federal aid.

May Not Act Today

The way was clear for House action today, but Minority Leader Halleck (D) Ind., indicated that he might block action until tomorrow.

Senate Banking Chairman Maybank (D) S.C., said he will await House action before seeking Senate approval.

When the two houses accept the conference compromise, the measure will go to the White House, where it has the advance approval of President Truman.

Mr. Truman wanted a million-unit program. Adopted was the Senate-passed version calling for 810,000 units over 6 years, a version which the House leadership had intended to pass in the first place.

Heat Wave Boosts Use Of Water Here

Over Million Gallons More Used On Hottest Days Than Normally

Those extra baths you have been taking, or that lawn and garden sprinkling during the dry weather have meant something in the consumption of water in New Castle. On Tuesday, one of the hottest days of the year thus far, the City of New Castle Water company pumped 7,400,000 gallons of water for your use.

This against a normal average of about 6,400,000 gallons per day.

"We haven't had any shortage of water but folks certainly were using it during the hot days" said J. Lepere Matthews, manager of the company.

Yesterday, when rains broke the hot spell, the use of water dropped sharply and today the consumption is expected to be slightly more than normal.

Strike-Bound Foodships Are To Be Unloaded

British Soldiers And Sailors Enter London Dock Area To Take Over Task

LONDON, July 7.—(INS)—British soldiers and sailors entered the London dock area today shortly before noon (7 a. m. EDT) to begin unloading foodstuffs from strike-bound ships.

The first naval contingent arrived at the docks at 11:30 a. m. (6:30 a. m., EDT) and other seamen and soldiers swiftly followed.

Six hundred troops and navy men are expected to be at work before the afternoon is over unloading precious imported food threatened with spoilage by the deadlocked dockers strike.

The government acted to save the food after Minister of Labor George Isaacs warned that "further action is being considered" in settling the strike which was interpreted to mean the government plans legal action against the strike leaders.

Union officials insist they are not out on strike but have been locked out by the dock executive because they refused to unload two Canadian ships before being allowed to unload other ships.

Bangor, Maine Has $2,000,000 Fire Damage

(BULLETIN)

BANGOR, Maine, July 7.—(INS)—Fire which swept a half-mile stretch of the Bangor waterfront was brought under control today a short distance from tanks containing a half-million gallons of gasoline. Damage was estimated at $2,000,000. The fire, of undetermined origin, was brought under control after a four-hour fight by firemen.

Desperate efforts of firemen from Bangor and surrounding communities stopped the flames as they licked at the sides of the first of five 100,000-gallon tanks containing the gasoline. Fire chief Herbert Considine said the entire city might have been destroyed if the tanks had exploded.

Threat Of Steel Strike In Nation More Menacing

Wage Talks Between U. S. Steel Corp., And C.I.O.—Steel Workers Break Down

WAGE INCREASE IS TURNED DOWN (BULLETIN)

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—(INS)—The rift between the United States Steel corporation and the United Steelworkers Union widened today, with both parties claiming "it's your move."

Negotiators for management and labor recessed yesterday after Big Steel rejected the CIO union's demand for a wage increase and other contract benefits.

No date was set for resumption of negotiations, and the parting of the two groups was not amicable.

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—(INS)—A nationwide steel strike became imminent today with a breakdown in wage talks between the CIO-United Steelworkers and the U. S. Steel Corporation.

Negotiations were severed yesterday after "big steel" flatly rejected the steelworkers' fourth-round wage increase.

The company also turned a deaf ear on CIO-USW President Philip Murray's pension and social insurance demands. The refusal was so complete that little hope could be seen for a compromise.

No Sound Justification

Big Steel President Benjamin Fairless, in a prepared statement, declared there was "no sound or proper justification for granting a wage increase at this time."

He expressed the fear that if the steel workers were to be granted a pay hike it would encourage a general-fourth-round of wages increase throughout the country.

In the face of the dropping cost of living, particularly food prices, Fairless stated, a pay boost could not be justified.

Citing "big steel's" 1948 profits of 200 million dollars, Murray countered:

"They don't argue they can't grant a wage increase, or pensions or social insurance. They merely say 'no'—and with an air of complete finality."

Strike Action Possible

Bristling, Murray said he will take the company's answer to the union's 175-man executive board and wage policy committee next Wednesday. Strike action may be voted at that time. Under terms of the contract, the union can strike, or the company can lock its plants, if no agreement is reached by July 16.

The company did offer a social insurance program amounting to two-and-one-half cents an hour, which Murray termed "niggardly."

Murray had asked pensions and social insurance totaling more than 20 cents an hour per employee. The amount of the union's wage demands were not disclosed.

Negotiations Can Be Resumed

The negotiations may be resumed at the call of the conference chairman John A. Stephens, chief negotiator and vice president in charge of industrial relations for the steel firm.

Murray expressed the opinion, however, that future meetings were futile. He said:

"There is no hope, as I see it at the present moment, of mutually satisfactory agreement on any of the issues."

I'm sorry your picnic was spoiled, my dear, and that foodstuffs that you prepared, you had to keep in the cupboard, but, the neighbors all of them shared. And that little trip you had planned went bad, I know it annoyed you, quite, but think of the good that the showers did, and think of the cooler night. In nice round figures that rain storm meant a million or more I'd say, in spite of the fact that your picnic was spoiled, it's eighty-seven today.

Truman Believes World Moving Toward Peace

WASHINGTON, July 7.—President Truman declared today that the United States cannot consider any more toward world disarmament until Russia agrees to international control of atomic energy. The chief executive, at the same time, expressed belief that the world is moving gradually toward peace.

Mr. Truman took exception at his weekly news conference to a suggestion by Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., that, after the North Atlantic pact is ratified, the president lead a movement toward world disarmament.

Peace His Keynote

The president said that every move, and every public statement on world affairs that he has made since April 12, 1945, has been a prayerful effort to achieve a permanent world peace.

April 12, 1945, was the day that Mr. Truman succeeded Franklin D. Roosevelt as president.

The president said that peace has been the keynote of all his speeches since then, and the main objective of his administration.

He said that he expects to keep fighting for peace as long as he is president.

He pointed out that the question of world disarmament is before the United Nations, and added:

When international control of atomic energy is agreed to, then we can do something about disarmament—but not before then.

The president did not mention Russia by name, but the implication was clear. The Soviet Union was the nation that vetoed the United States proposal for international control of atomic energy.

President Truman Is Optimistic On Nation's Prosperity

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—President Truman today said that he is "bullish" on the nation's economic condition.

The president used a Wall Street term to express optimism over the nation's prosperity.

Mr. Truman told his news conference to look at the stock market for the last several days and see what has happened there. The market has shown an upturn tendency in the last several days.

The president made plain in answers to a series of questions about the nation's economy that his overall viewpoint is one of continuing optimism.

Government sources said officials probably will ask workers seeking pay boosts to put off their demands until "better times."

London newspaper reaction to Chancellor of the Exchequer Cripps report, in which he told of drastically curtailed labor imports, was generally mixed.

The London Daily Herald said that in the statement to the House of Commons yesterday Cripps was "sounding the alarm" to the nation by calling on every worker and executive to get together and help the nation in the present perilous economic situation.

Cripps Is Blasted
The Conservative press blasted Cripps and his plan for conserving British gold and dollar reserves. The London Daily Mail in an editorial said it "deplored" the statement because it contained no new proposals or guidance. It added:

"It had nothing to bring home to the ordinary men and women the gravity of the country's position."

London's financial circles are generally gloomy despite U. S. Secretary of State Acheson's statement that Britain is not faced with a great crisis.

They believe that all hopes for averting a financial "dunkerkque" hinges on Cripps talks Friday with Snyder who is in Europe to get a first-hand report on West Europe's financial status.

"The political correspondent of the Daily Mail said Cripps may go to the United States accompanied by Prime Minister Attlee and Foreign Secretary begin to present Britain's plight to top U. S. officials."

Brook street. With the street being used as a detour, motorists fail to observe the no-parking signs on one side of the street and when a motorist parks on the opposite side it is most difficult for trucks and buses to get through, tying up traffic considerably.

Workmen engaged in applying paint on the court house buildings had about one of the hottest tasks imaginable on Tuesday prior to the deluge of rain which blanketed the city. The perspiring workmen were forced to mop their brows long and frequently. The hot bricks on the building were quite inductive in drying the paint almost as quickly as it was applied.

Motorists coming down State street hit using Route 224 are informed by means of signs that a traffic signal is 500 feet ahead. No need for accidents at this point if caution is used by motorists as they approach the traffic light at Sampson and Grant streets.

Motorists with older model cars with thin treaded tires are finding the heat wave which has blanketed the district for some little time is taking its toll on the tires. The cars are parked in front of the family residence in good shape and a short while later in many cases a flat tire has resulted.

Although the old Youngstown road between the city and New Bedford is no longer an official state route considerable use is being made of the road by local and out of state residents. Most of the traffic warning signs remain on the highway. Trimming of the berms would be a good measure, especially along the curves.

In the Seventh ward and North Beaver township areas there seemed to have been a much harder rain storm Wednesday afternoon than in other parts of the city. Corn was knocked over in some fields by force of the storm. It was noted.

A large high mesh fence is being erected around the playground area of the Croton public school. The fence replaces a smaller iron one. It will be a safety measure for boys and girls as it will prevent balls from rolling out into the busy Croton thoroughfare.

A check up with the State Highway Department reveals that little or no damage was done to the highway system during Wednesday's severe rain storm. Dirt was washed on some roads in a few places but otherwise all roads are in good condition. The gushing waters did wash up some of the asphalt on a few city streets it was observed.

It may not be the time to remark about it now, but there'll be a day when youngsters will be taking out the old sleds—and polishing the runners... At any rate one of the large downtown department stores, is preparing for this favor.

Following the heavy rain storm on Wednesday afternoon, there was some let up in the torrid heat conditions here overnight. Temperature dropped down into the seventies following the storm.

but south of Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Washington it was like the rest of the country—hot.

Forecaster I. W. Brunk said the story will be much the same today.

Even in regions where the temperature dips slightly, Brunk said, it will seem uncomfortably warm because of high humidity. Scattered thunderstorms around the nation are expected to bring only momentary relief.

MAN ARRESTED ON DISORDERLY CHARGE
George Holland of Preston avenue, who has been in police court several times in the past, was arrested early this morning, after he is said to have created a disturbance at Teddy's Dairy Bar on West Long avenue. After allegedly breaking down the door, after the place was closed, police were informed he grabbed a waitress to try and prevent her from calling police.

An information was made against him this morning before Alderman Jesse Kennedy of the third ward, and the case was turned over to the alderman by Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna.

union was entrenched in General Electric, Westinghouse, and other large companies who would be making a large part of our war material.

The columnist asserted that he has received "hundreds" of letters from union members who have been "kicked out of their unions, lost their jobs, or threatened physically because they threatened to reform their unions."

"One such citizen was murdered," Pegler declared.

He told the congressmen that infiltration of unions was "deliberate" and was "made legally possible by clever labor lawyers who took care to place the necessary provisions for its continuance in the constitutions of the unions." He continued:

No Convention In 20 Years
"So despotic is the rule of many of the leaders that we have had cases where no convention of the union was held for over 20 years. Members in other instances had no candidate to vote for except the incumbents or their selections. They received a Hitlerian 'JA' ballot."

He called the check-off system for collecting dues "vicious," and declared that under it union members are "obligated to support their union before their family, church, schools, doctors—indeed everything except the federal taxes withheld by the employer at his own expense."

The columnist asserted that "millions upon millions of dollars" are in the treasuries of these unions and may be spent for any purpose the "union bosses" choose.

INFORMAL WEDDING
Miss Dorothy Ruth Miller, of Philadelphia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Miller, 203 Holton street, this city, was married to George H. Rother, of Reading, son of Herbert Rother, of 105 Spring Mill avenue, Conshohocken, Pa., at an impressive ceremony, marked by its simplicity, on Saturday, July 2, in St. Paul's Lutheran church, New Castle.

Rev. O. J. Warnath, pastor of the church, officiated at the evening ceremony, using the single ring service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautifully gowned in a white eyelet ballerina length creation which she fashioned herself. She wore a white bonnet enhanced by an informal diaphanous veil. Her colonial bouquet was composed of white roses.

Honor attendant, Mrs. Ruth Klein, of New Castle, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a yellow eyelet ballerina length gown with white accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and blue iris.

William Porter of Philadelphia, attended the groom as best man and Joseph and David Kirkwood, nephews of the bride, served as ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church basement for 100 people.

The newlyweds departed for a wedding trip to the Poconos and will reside in Reading, Pennsylvania, where the groom is engaged in business.

QUINN-ANNARELLA

rites solemnized

Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, celebrant for the nuptial mass, officiated using the single ring ceremony.

Church organist, Mrs. Frances Colao, presented a program of traditional nuptial music.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was lovely in a white satin colonial gown. Chantilly lace accentuated the neckline of her gown and the full length sleeves were trimmed in lace. This ample skirt featured rows of lace and terminated in a train. She wore a fingertip illusion veil and carried a prayer book adorned with an orchid and streamers of baby mums. Her only jewelry was a two strand pearl necklace, a gift of the groom.

As maid of honor and only attendant, Miss Margaret Quinn, sister of the bride, wore a frock of azure blue marquisette and lace with a matching picture hat and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and blue mixed flowers.

Angelo Annarella of Beaver Falls, brother of the groom, served as best man.

The dinner was served at 2 p. m. at a local dining room. The couple left later on a motor trip to New York and Canada. Upon their return they reside at their newly built home at 15 Cameron avenue.

Milk Production In May All-Time Peak For State

HARRISBURG.—More milk was produced on Pennsylvania farms during May than for any other month since the keeping of records was started in 1924, according to the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service in the State Department of Agriculture.

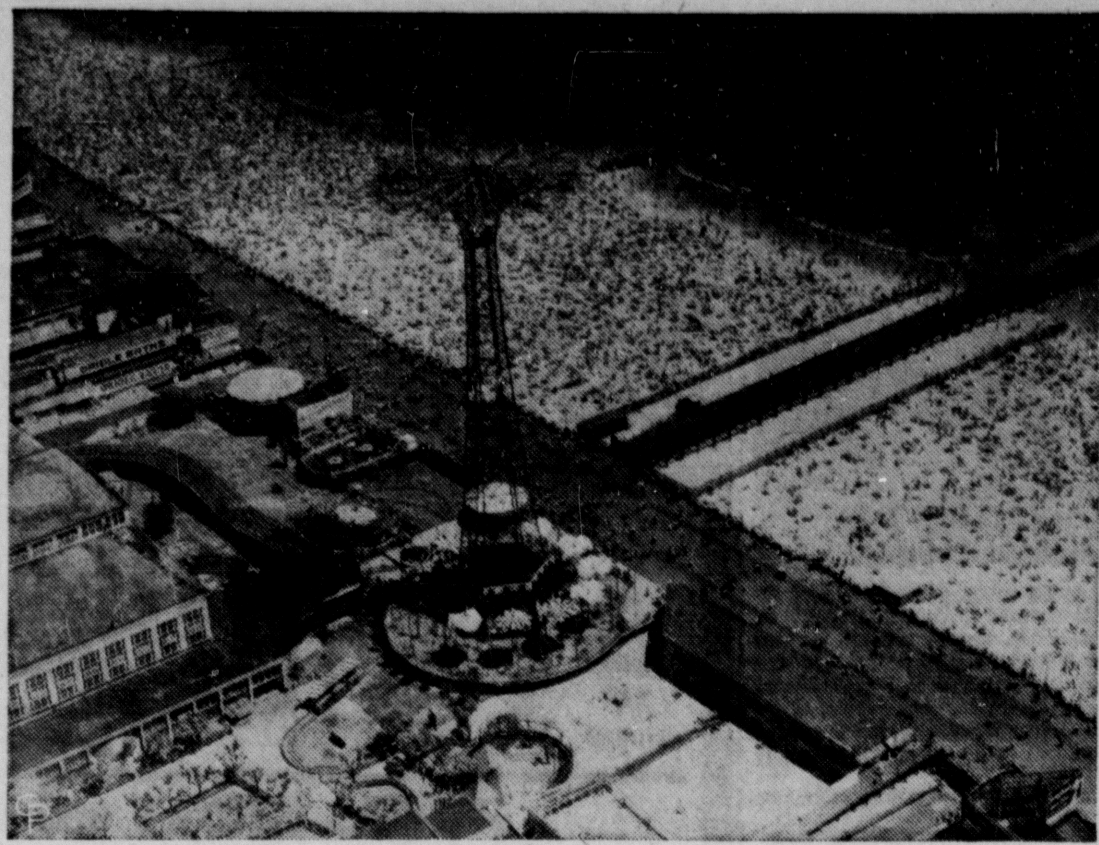

Shipment of milk to market was much above a year previous, a June 1 survey revealed. Increased quantities were being diverted to the manufacture of dairy products, resulting in a lower average return per hundredweight to the producer it was learned.

Total milk production for May was 578,000,000 pounds, 13 per cent above April and six per cent more than in May 1948. Production per cow at 24.5 pounds on June 1 set a new high mark for that date, one pound higher than June 1, 1948. It was the fifth consecutive month that a new first-of-the-month daily output record was set for each of the respective months, federal-state records disclosed.

The number of milk cows on Pennsylvania farms on June 1 was estimated at 964,000. Insufficient rainfall in northwestern and central Pennsylvania counties the first three weeks in May hindered growth of pastures and hay crops, the department said. Rains following May 20 were beneficial but temperatures averaged far below normal, and accompanied by several hard frosts, retarded growth and damaged stands of corn and other crops. A prolonged period without measurable precipitation in early June reduced prospects for good grazing and adequate yields of hay.

Stigmatization is the name given to the impression on certain individuals of the stigmata or marks similar to the wounds made in the body of Christ during his torture.

Coney Island May Look Outmoded, But It's Mecca For N. Y. Millions

ON A SUNDAY AFTERNOON—Recent air view shows part of the Coney beach aswim with humanity.

By LESLIE P. EICHEL
Central Press Correspondent
NEW YORK—Time was when a visitor to New York wouldn't think his visit complete unless he went to Coney Island. Now he's pushed off the beach—by as high as 1,250,000 on Saturday and Sunday and 250,000 on other days.

An express subway train a minute brings the millions from the vast populated metropolitan area, the subway coming in as an elevated as so often is the case in outlying areas.

Except that Coney no longer is outlying. Grandparents used to go there by boat. But now boats, if any, go far beyond, and grandchildren, if they have cars, motor miles up Long Island or down Jersey to get to less crowded beaches.

Says the Coney Island Chamber of Commerce: "This is the workingman's beach and we want to keep it that—no changes, no putting on the dog, nothing fancy. Only thing, there's a 10-cent subway fare now instead of five. However, that doesn't stop the people."

Indeed it doesn't. However, Coney looks like heck. Some of the concessions stand up merely by the grace of God and a tolerant building inspector. The boardwalk, built by the city, is a strong costly affair, but the structures that face it hark back to the 30's. "Only way to change them is with a good big fire," said a spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce. "Not that we want to start any fires."

"We're to have a big improvement here, though, in 1951. The city and the park board are going to build an aquarium three blocks long, to take the place of the one torn down at the Battery to make way for the new Manhattan-Brooklyn tunnel."

Coney may not be putting on the dog, but it has slapped higher prices on hot dogs. And restaurants—many of them have prices in keeping with Broadway and Times Square.

The merry-go-rounds—now called high-faluting carousels—seem more modern than other amusements, perhaps because the old ones were tame for modern kids. The horses now look more like wild west mustangs than hobby horses, and the tunes are a bit more modern. That's more than can be said for a sidestreet amusement which still was grinding out the songs of 1938.

The strangest tune of all, a really delightful one, comes not from mechanical contrivances but from human throats. In a pavilion on the ocean side of the boardwalk, on a week-day morning, old men who play cards and old women who sew, sit on the benches.

A low chant arises from the men, a Hebrew chant. In the background, as if a chorus, there is a low humming of Italian and Spanish. New York remains the melting pot.

This is America as no other city has it, this Coney with its multilingual multitudes, a tinsel backdrop to the great forces of nature and humanity, the mighty ocean beating against a beach of swarming humanity.

Jap Beetle Ban Resumed In State

HARRISBURG.—Japanese beetles made their first appearance in the Harrisburg area today and have been seen in limited numbers in other parts of the heavily infested southeastern Pennsylvania section, the State Department of Agriculture announced.

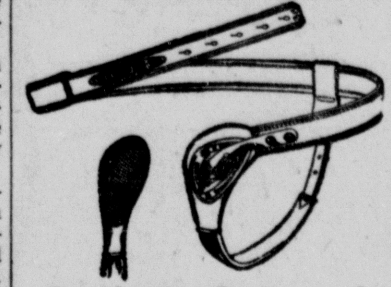

Federal restrictions on bulk movement of fruit, vegetables and cut flowers only by motor truck and refrigerator cars from 14 counties are now in effect, according to Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, director, Bureau of Plant Industry. Inspections on such shipments will continue in this area of heavy infestation until about mid-September.

Hot weather has brought the beetles out about a week earlier than last year, but they did not appear in large numbers until about July 1 and will reach peak numbers about August 1, Dr. Guyton explained.

Best control is spraying with a DDT solution made with three tablespoonsful of 50 per cent wettable DDT powder in a gallon of water, or two pounds per 100 gallons where large quantities are desired, he said.

No additions have been made this year to the restricted, heavily

Seventh Ward
Part Of Ward Flooded
By Wednesday's Rain

South Cedar And South Liberty
And Part Of North Liberty
Streets Under Water

As a result of the heavy rain storm Wednesday afternoon high water was caused in some sections of the seventh ward. The lower part of South Cedar and South Liberty streets were under water for some time. On Liberty street at the railroad subway and on Lafayette street at the subway, water accumulated to a depth that for a time halted auto traffic.

Workmen going to and from the Penna railroad shops had to detour around Cedar and South Liberty street. Automobiles in that area had to wait for water to subside, some having to be towed to their destination.

At the intersection of East Madison and Liberty street, over toward Clayton street, there was high water, it being necessary to use planks to get in and out of a store at the corner of Madison and Liberty street.

During the period of high water the children had their fun, enjoying wading through the water, which felt good after the scorching heat of the day.

Judges for the occasion were Jennie DiVidio, Mary Perrotta and Pauline Ross.

The midget mullball team won from the Big Run playground team Wednesday, but the juniors lost to Rose avenue team. They were under the direction of supervisor Don Black.

Children Want to Grow Up

Children want to grow up. Here is a simple but sound fact that we parents need to think about. Sometimes we act as though youngsters want to remain children and think of our job as one of persuading, forcing, or otherwise insisting that they stop being "childish" and take on responsibilities that are more mature.

It pays to watch what actually happens. From the very earliest years children attempt to be like their older playmates, like their parents, or like other grown-ups. They get tremendous satisfaction out of being told that they are being "big boys" or "big girls."

Of course we may overdo this. We may expect too much, demand grown-up behavior too consistently. But unless we do "put on the pressure," we can count on a pretty steady pattern of desire to act the way and to do things as do adults.

Though we may not realize it, we often fail to "give youngsters their heads" when they are trying to be grown-up. They want to cook supper but we fear a little food will be spoiled. They want to go to the store alone but we are fearful of accidents. It's a good idea to stop when one's inclination is to refuse a child permission to do something and ask oneself, "Will this help Billy learn to take responsibility? Will it be another step toward growing up?" You may be surprised how often the answer will be an affirmative one.

in a community church school put on in summer for young children. When leaders of this type of school see the value from reading to tots in small groups they will enlist the interest and help of many other teen-age girls.

You might find reading to tots in your neighborhood so satisfying to you as to choose also to lead them in playing games and in making things with their hands.

Some boys from twelve to fourteen might also choose to read to little children and lead them at playing games and making things. With a few tools these boy-leaders might be able to attract some of the neighborhood boys from five to eight or nine to make things from wood.

When these older boys or girls consciously are leaders and are accepted as such in a program these leaders plan, the possibilities are tremendous. See, too the experience in taking responsibilities these young leaders may gain.

Former Resident
Hurt In Accident
At Vandergrift

Mr. and Mrs. John Bockius of the Princeton road were weekend guests in Vandergrift, and report the nearly fatal accident of a former resident of New Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. James Heeter, one time associated with Cascade Park, and now part owner of the Griffla Park in Vandergrift, were in charge of the fireworks show at the park on July 4. Heeter was aided by his son James Jr., and Lawrence Robinson, and the display was to take place on an island in the park's lake.

Approximately five thousand people waited for the show. As the first aerial bomb was to be sent up, the one hundred fifty pound missile exploded. James Heeter, Sr., and Robinson were clear of the impact, but James Heeter, Jr., was burned about the head before he jumped into the water of the lake. This kept him from serious injury.

best suited to the purposes of the Soviet Union, which seeks to create the impression that this country is sinking rapidly in an economic bog.

At Other Extreme

At the other extreme, southern Democrats of the type of Senator Walter George of Georgia and ultra-conservative and reactionary Republicans talk about government economy and a balanced budget. They talk in this way as though the tragedy of Herbert Hoover and his futile effort to balance the budget in the face of falling revenue had never occurred. Government economy is imperative, but an effort to make outgo narrowly match income will merely aggravate the present difficulty.

What would be most effective at this moment would be a substantial cut in the taxes of individuals. But, by its hasty and ill-considered action in slashing taxes a year ago, the 80th congress threw away that remedy and fanned the fire of inflation which was then burning most fiercely. If an example of bad timing were needed, there it is.

AN INTERNATIONAL PROBLEM

ROBERT R. CARTER of Danville, Ill., is an international problem to government officials in Germany. He entered Germany illegally to join his German girl friend, Anni Schmidt, unwed mother of two children at Frankfurt, gave up his American citizenship and announced he wanted to become a German. The military government is considering expelling Carter as an "undesirable," but doesn't know where to send him because he now has no citizenship. He is shown with Anni and her 8-week-old baby.

New Bedford Principal Delighted
With Experiences At Penn State;
News Scholarship Winner

After many years as principal of the New Bedford school, Clair S. Brown is back in the class room as a student.

Mr. Brown is attending Pennsylvania State College for the six weeks' summer session on the New Castle News-Penn State scholarship. Some weeks ago he was selected as the representative teacher of Lawrence County to be awarded the scholarship.

In a letter to The News he talks interestingly of his experiences at State. Said he "over the July 4th week end here I saw students from India, Egypt, China, Japan and from every state from coast to coast. There are 5500 students enrolled in this summer session."

Mr. Brown seems delighted with his living quarters. From his room he looks out upon "the seven mountains nestled in a semi-circle surrounding the beautiful rolling farm land."

Through his six weeks' to post-graduate study at State, Mr. Brown expects to bring back to Lawrence County with him a fresh view point in teaching and some ideas that will aid him and the schools of which he has charge.

Teachers Vote To Bar Reds

National Education Association Also Wants School Courses On Totalitarianism

BOSTON, July 7.—(INS)—The National Education association voted Wednesday against allowing members of the Communist party in the United States to teach in the nation's schools.

The 3,000 delegates attending the 28th annual convention in Mechanics hall also voted to include in school curricula a course about totalitarianism, including Communism.

Only a few "no's" followed the voice vote when President Mabel Studebaker, of Erie, Pa., asked who was opposed.

Four Point Report

The ban against Communists teachers was included in a four-point report affirming:

1. Young citizens should have an opportunity to learn about the practices and principles of totalitarianism.

2. Teaching about Communism does not mean advocacy of such doctrines. Such advocacy should not be permitted in American schools.

3. The schools should continue with vigor their programs for giving a clear understanding of the principles of the American way of life.

4. Members of the Communist party of the United States should not be employed as teachers.

Norton Speaks

The vote came after a spirited denunciation of Communism by John K. Norton of Columbia university.

He called Communism an "evil system" which would "regulate according to a despotic ideology every phase of a citizen's life."

Mrs. Russell, legislative agent of the CIO Teachers Union of New York, said she did not oppose firing disloyal teachers, but she said she feared the phrasing of the report.

She declared action against Communism might lead to "dismissals on other political grounds."

Earlier the delegates heard S. Perry Brown, national commander of the American Legion outline a new program to give military training during summer months to 18 and 20-year-old youths.

Death Sentence Demand Is Made In Mindszenty Case

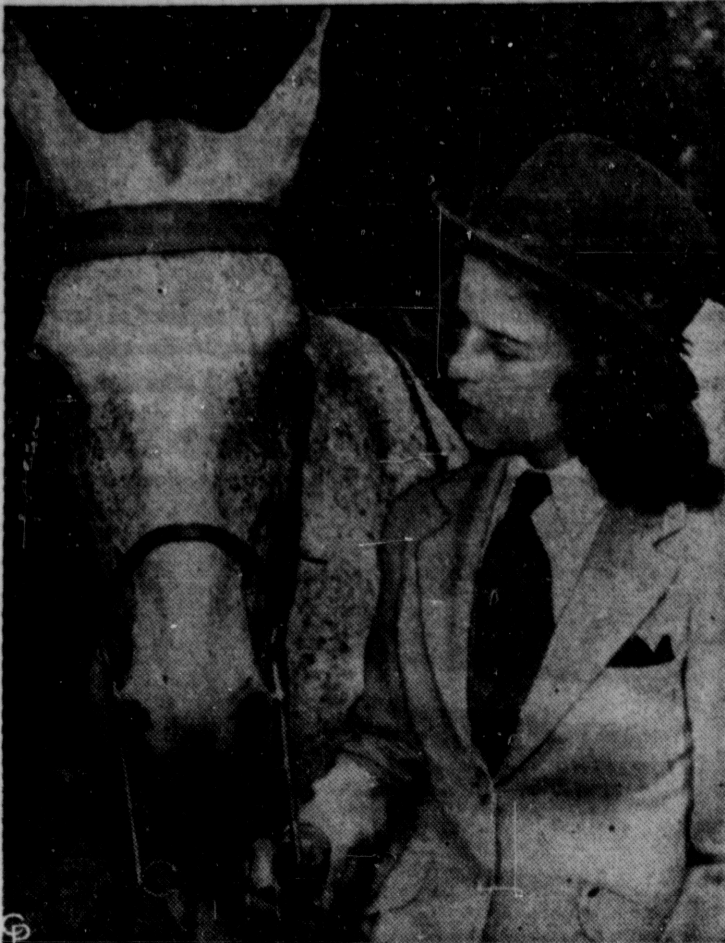

BUDAPEST, July 7.—(INS)—Communist Hungary's general prosecutor today demanded the death sentence for Josef Cardinal Mindszenty now serving a life term for alleged treason, espionage, and black market activities.

The demand for "harder" punishment than the life prison term already given the Hungarian primate was made at the hearing on the primate's appeal from the sentence meted out by a "people's court" in Budapest February 8.

The Roman Catholic prelate's lawyer at the same time urged a lighter sentence on the grounds that his activity had not been a conspiracy against democracy.

Under Hungarian law the appeal court may raise or lower the sentences imposed by lesser courts.

Labor Troubles In Japan Result In Gun Battle

TOKYO, July 7.—(INS)—Japan's mounting labor troubles erupted today into a gun battle between police and leftist demonstrators in which three persons were wounded seriously and 13 arrested at Takahagi.

The clash occurred as Japanese rural police announced receipt of Premier Shigeru Yoshida of an anonymous threat to assassinate the whole cabinet, all police chiefs and the president of the national railway system.

The latter official, Sandaroni Shimoyama, met violent death Tuesday—one day after the threatening letter was received. The Tokyo prosecutor's office declared it has been definitely determined that Shimoyama was assassinated by means of a fatal beating.

The outbreak at Takahagi in Ibaragi prefecture (province) began last night and continued until this morning. It started when police moved in to break up an authorized "people's rally" by a crowd of coal miners and Korean residents of Japan.

Chicago Strippers Given Warning

CHICAGO, July 7.—(INS)—There's an "undercover" plot afoot today against Chicago's strippers, exotic dancers and artists of the runway.

It seems they've been undercovert too much—and therein lies the tale.

Jack Irving, regional director of the American Guild of Variety Artists, warned Chicago's variety-steppers and strutters yesterday they've been taking off too many clothes.

He admitted it was hot, but implied clothes still should be worn.

not merely draped across a baretop. And, wild applause notwithstanding, he suggested some of the strippers take it easy for a while—or else.

The else, Irving told 100 of the city's finest, would be expulsion from the Variety Guild.

What he called the girls together for was a lecture on economics. Because of recent complaints about indecent dancing and stripping, he told the strutters, police will close down some of the city's night spots if they don't take it easy.

Demand For Touring Information Increases

Not everybody who owns a car is travelling this weather, but it almost seems that way to B. J. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor Club.

It is the busy season in the motor office, the season when the office is filled most of the day with tourists asking for road maps, route instructions, hotel accommodations and the like.

"The trend this year is north and east," said Mr. Hanlon. "New England is getting a heavy play. Canada is getting a lot of our folks with a fair proportion going west and southwest."

Triptik Road Maps

This year the American Automobile association has come up with a plan that is making it easier for tourists. The plan is known as "triptik" and consists of a number of trip maps all bound together in a folder. For example you want to go to a point in Florida. This would call for four or five trip maps. The first would show the route to Breezewood on the turnpike. The next would show the route down into Virginia. The next into North Carolina and finally one showing the route to your destination. The bound booklet is compact and can be read in a moving car without a yard of road map blowing into the driver's face. The maps also show points of interest, accommodations and other items of interest.

It seems to be a peak year for touring. Mr. Hanlon thinks the demand for tourist information is heavier than 1948.

Penna. Top State In Industrial Counties

HARRISBURG. — Preliminary data from the Census of Manufactures covering all counties in the nation with 20,000 or more manufacturing employees in 1947 shows Pennsylvania ahead of all states with 18 counties in this group, the Pennsylvania State Planning Board of the Department of Commerce pointed out.

New York is second to Pennsylvania, with a total of 15 such counties; Ohio third, with 11; Michigan fourth, Illinois and New Jersey tied for fifth place, and Indiana sixth, with six counties. Despite the great rise in industrial activity on the Pacific Coast, only seven counties in that entire area qualify for inclusion in this list, and only four counties in Texas.

Commenting on the census, the Planning Board stated: "There is, of course, a reason for this general growth of manufactures in this commonwealth. No other region in America has offered to industry such varied advantages of transportation, raw materials, and easy access to the nation's most important markets."

No Habeas Corpus Writ For Famous Kidnapping Victim

'Jake The Barber' Must Continue To Serve Parole In Southern California

CINCINNATI, O., July 7.—(INS)—John "Jake the Barber" Factor, whose kidnapping hit the limelight in Chicago years ago, still had several years of Southern California climate in store for him today.

The U. S. Court of Appeals in Cincinnati denied Factor a writ of habeas corpus which would have permitted the convicted swindler to go to Chicago to consult with a lawyer about his income tax.

Factor was released on parole from a fraud sentence last February 7, but ordered to stay in Southern California until 1953. The Federal District Court in Detroit originally denied Factor's suit for a habeas corpus writ.

The Cincinnati court turned down his appeal on the ground Factor had named Warden Lemuel F. Fox of the Federal prison at Milan, Mich., as his custodian, whereas he actually was in custody of the U. S. Parole Board.

Factor admitted during his early trials he obtained $147,750 by fraud.

Tiphia Wasp Helps Fight Jap Beetles

HARRISBURG.—(INS)—Cannibistic warfare is science's answer to the Japanese beetle.

Agriculture department entomologists have resorted to the primordial rule of survival of the fittest to get rid of the destructive green beetles.

For years experts have searched for tactics to uproot the Jap beetle which came to America on the roots of imported iris plants around the turn of the century. The answer, entomologists say, is the Tiphia wasp. The wasp is a country cousin of the beetle, imported from the beetle's fatherland, Korea.

Wasps Eat Beetles
Fifteen new colonies of man's standard-bearer against the beetle front have been established in places of heaviest infestation in Pennsylvania. The agriculture department said colonies total "many millions" of Tiphia wasps.

The wasp army marches on its stomach—it eats beetles. And the backbone of the army is the missus. The female wasp digs into the ground, finds herself a Jap beetle grub, lays an egg in its abdomen and is off again in search of another likely candidate. The wasp egg hatches. The new born wasp grub devours the beetle grub, then rolls itself into a cocoon and sleeps for a year when it awakens to take up the fight of its ancestors.

Nearly 1800 Took Part In City Adult Education Classes In Public Schools

New Castle Department of Schools announces that nearly 1,800 adults attended the city's Adult Education Program courses last year.

Four separate classifications of education were offered to residents of New Castle and vicinity 16 years of age and over, under the direction of Earl M. Cass, director of vocational education in New Castle.

Many Groups
A part-time trade extension program, a clothing unit, a general education unit and auto driving training were offered by the city's school system.

The part-time trade extension program operated classes in blueprint reading, mathematics and other technical subjects. One group was operated for the carpenter's union, one for the bricklayer's union, one for the ceramic industry, 11 groups from Johnson Bronze and United Engineering and two groups for miscellaneous employers. There was a total of 391 enrolled in this phase of training. Plant personnel did the instructing.

Twenty-five classes were offered by the clothing unit. Clothing construction was taught in these courses with the advanced classes doing ladies' tailoring. Classes were taught by home economic teachers with 532 persons enrolled.

Forty Sections
General education groups offered English, English for foreign born, French, Spanish, algebra, psychology, ceramic art, textile painting, woodworking, metal working and commercial subjects. Forty sections were operated with 659 persons enrolled. Classes were taught by regular teachers.

Auto driver training was given in conjunction with the AAA with 156 enrolled.

The program is a free public education service by the New Castle Department of Schools. A $5 registration fee is charged but is refunded to those persons attending 75 per cent or more of their classes.

First started four and a half years ago with 20 enrolled in a woodworking class, the program has grown every year to its enrollment of 1,788 the past year.

Eighty per cent of the teacher cost is paid by the state, with the city providing the supplies, rooms and other 20 per cent of the teachers' salaries.

Held in Schools and Plants
Part of the classes for the courses are held in the city's school buildings and some in the various plants offering instruction in the program.

Courses were taught late in the afternoons, evenings and Saturdays. They were usually given one day a week for three hours and two days a week for two hours each day. Length of the courses depends on the subject.

The Department of Schools plans to operate courses in any subject in which there is sufficient demand this year. Classes will start in the fall and persons interested should watch The New for announcements late in September. Driving courses are being given throughout the summer and persons interested in them should get in touch with the AAA at The Castleton hotel.

(Letters intended for this column must be signed with name and address of writer.)

EXPLAINS ASSESSMENTS

In order that there be as little misunderstanding as possible over the re-evaluation of properties by the assessor, T. J. Minner, assessor for the New Wilmington borough, has requested the printing of portions of the Act to equalize taxation.

"In compliance with Section 11 of Act No. 447 of 1947, every effort is being made to determine a market value of the taxable real property for all of the school districts as rapidly as possible. As the market value for each district is determined, a preliminary certification is prepared and mailed to the school directors of that district. The superintendent of Public Instruction receives a copy of each district's certification."

"Section 15 of Act No. 447 provides that this market value for each district, as finally determined, after the June 1949 certification, will be the valuation to be used for computing the district's standard reimbursement fraction, beginning with the payment to be made for the school year 1949-1950. This market value will be used instead of the assessed valuation of the district for county tax purposes as previously provided in the law."

Market Values And Assessed Values

Despite rumors to the contrary, the State Tax Equalization board does not assess property.

It has no control over any of the functions of the assessment of real estate for local tax purposes. It has no control over local tax rates or the collection of taxes. This point should be made clear: equalization of assessed valuations between properties and between districts is still the responsibility and duty of local officials."

The following example, as written by Mr. Minner, will illustrate what is taking place with respect to borough assessments.

The State Tax Equalization Plan
For example a property assessed at $2100 in 1948 and the school millage at 18 mills. In 1949 your school tax would be $37.80 plus the per capita tax.
By the State Equalization plan it will be necessary to increase our property values 1/3 and this property would be assessed at $2800 and the millage could be lowered to 13 1/2 mills, and your school tax would be no higher. The reason for this increase in the 1949 assessment is to bring our assessed property values up to around 35 or 40 percent of the fair market value, and by doing so we should receive our full share of the state subsidies for school purpose.

If we do not raise our property values it could be possible that we would lose $5,000 or more of our state assistance, which the school board now receives. This would necessitate an increase of 8 or 10 mills by the board to offset the loss.

The only place where the increase will be felt will be in the payment of county taxes, where the unequal assessed valuations are felt more than any place else.

DONEGAN-SZUBA

NUPTIALS TOLD

A distinctively dainty fingertip veil caught to a heart shaped bonnet embellished with seed pearls dramatized the bridal costume of Miss Mildred C. Donegan, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Donegan and the late Thomas Donegan of 421 Hillcrest avenue, for her marriage to Matthew Szuba, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Szuba of 907 N. Liberty street, July 2, at 9 a. m.

The impressive but unostentatious ceremony was solemnized at 9 a. m. in St. Mary's church with Rev. Fr. Francis King, officiating at the double ring ceremony in the presence of friends and relatives.

A colonial bouquet of white roses, carnations and snapdragons complemented the bridal gown which was fashioned with a sheer illusion neckline outlined with a frilly lace ruffle, and flaring skirt that flowed into a Cathedral train edged with a ruffle. She wore a gold cross and the traditional something old, new, borrowed and blue.

Maid of honor Miss Gretta Logue, was becomingly attired in pink marquisette and lace fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, cap sleeves and a full skirt accented by alternate ruffles of marquisette and lace. Bridesmaid Miss Frances Szuba was gowned in maize marquisette and lace styled identically to the honor maid's.

They carried harmonizing colonial bouquets of roses and carnations and snapdragons. Their head-dresses were of the bonnet type trimmed with flowers.

Stanley Smialowski was best man for the groom and ushering was Stanley Szuba, brother of the groom.

The wedding dinner was served at a New Wilmington dining room, and the evening reception was held at the Ecclesian club for 100 guests.

The bride couple departed for a honeymoon to Atlantic City, N. J. They will reside at the home of the bride's mother.

Mrs. Szuba is a graduate of New Castle high school and is employed at the Wolfe Iron and Metal company. Mr. Szuba, also a New Castle high school graduate, is employed with the B. and O. Railroad company.

B. D. C. Club Meets

The regular meeting of the B. D. C. club was held on a recent date at the vocational building of the North Beaver township school.

Reports were given by the campers, and demonstrations were shown by Virginia Brandt, and Virginia Stachwick with the aid of Mrs. Yacks. A supper was prepared by the girls.

Next meeting will be held in the school vocational building on July 11, at 1 p. m.

1939 Sewing Circle

Members of the 1939 Sewing Circle met Wednesday evening with Mrs. Ralph Lelli, of Beckford street.

Sewing was the pastime, and the club token was captured by Mrs. Guy Francis.

Plans were made for a picnic event at their next meeting, on July 20, at Cascade Park.

Forms for individuals who file returns on their income or net profits will be in the mail Aug. 1.

REPORTS LARGE

Report was made to city police by Umberto Tranquillo, of 5 East Home street, that someone had thrown something through a large store window, six by nine feet, at his place of business. It was valued at $150.

John Millione, of 3 East Home street, told police that he had heard a noise as of breaking glass around 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

McPHILLIPS-STEWART

MORNING WEDDING

Miss Norianne Marie McPhillips, daughter of John McPhillips, 414 Blunston avenue, became the bride of William Howard Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Vessella, 1809 Highland avenue, on Saturday, July 2, at 10:30 a. m. in the parish house of St. Mary's church. The Rev. Father Francis King officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attractively attired in egg shell colored summer suit with orchid accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

Miss Shirley McPhillips, cousin of the bride from Chevy Chase, Maryland, was maid of honor. She wore a navy blue suit rimmed in white with white accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Reginald Murphy of New Castle served the groom as best man. A reception was held from 11:30 to 2:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Vessella of Highland avenue.

The bride, a graduate of the New Castle High School class of 1948, was formerly employed at the Shenango Pottery in the office.

The groom, graduated from the local high school in 1948, is stationed at the U. S. Navy training station at Bethesda, Maryland. The couple plan to reside at Bethesda, Maryland.

City Street Crews

Clear Storm Damage

Washouts And Other Debris Send City Street Department Crews Into Cleanup Task

Five trucks with working crews of the City street department are busy today cleaning up the damage caused by Wednesday afternoon's heavy rain.

Street Commissioner James Gibson has dispatched at least one crew to each section of town and the fifth truck has been assigned to aid in the cleaning up of the Seventh Ward and the west side.

The areas were apparently the worst hit by the rain.

Gibson predicted that the cleaning up process would take approximately 10 days.

Most of the damage consists of washouts and debris left by the drainage water.

Neshannock Avenue, in the downtown sector, and Liberty street in Mahoningtown both had water on them from curb to curb during and immediately following the storm.

The street commissioner explained today that the sewer system of the city was designed and built when many of the streets were still unpaved. The increased numbers of hard surface streets causes the water to run off faster and the present sewers are inadequate to meet heavy downpours as experienced Wednesday.

Axis Sally Now

Wants Freedom

Under Bail Bond

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—Convicted traitor Mildred (Axis Sally) Gillars contended today that she should be freed on bail pending appeal because convicted spy Judith Coplon "is allowed to roam the street unmolested."

Miss Gillars' attorney, James J. Laughlin, filed in the U. S. Court of Appeals a motion asserting that Miss Coplon although found guilty of a "heinous offense" was admitted to bail and that the same privilege should be accorded "Sally."

The Gillars woman, convicted of broadcasting propaganda for the Nazis during World War II, is serving a 10-to-30 year sentence for treason.

Her case is on appeal, but she was denied bail after sentence was pronounced last March 25.

Makes Report

Of Convention

Members of the Eulene Rose Rebekah Lodge No. 37 held their meeting Wednesday evening in the L. O. O. F. hall.

Mrs. Myrtle Fawcett, district deputy president of Lawrence County was present as a special guest.

Mrs. Idyl Cooper, delegate from the local lodge to the convention which was held at Harrisburg, gave a report of the convention at this time.

Tuesday, July 12, the degree staff of the lodge will be entertained at a "hobo" party at the home of Mrs. Anna Stephenson, Willow Grove.

Radio Damaged

During Storm

Four ward firemen were called to the home of F. E. McKee, of 1056 Adams street, during the electric storm at 4:45 p. m. when the radio became overheated and smoke was issuing from it. It is believed that lightning may have followed the wires into the house. Firemen disconnected the radio. Damage of around $25 was done. Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink reported.

PAYMENTS HIGHER HARRISBURG, July 7.—(INS)—Unemployment compensation payments during the first half of 1949 were 50 per cent greater than in a comparable period last year, the state treasury department announced today.

In the first six months of this year, payments totaled $51,246,975 contrasted with $25,628,848 in the first half of 1948, the treasury reported.

RABBITS IN THE GARDEN.

(By OWEN P. FOX)

Rabbits are wild game in their proper place in the fields and woods, they cannot do much damage, but it seems that as soon as the gardens come forth with their tender growth of vegetables, all the rabbits around seem to know it, and come in the night to feed, cutting off garden plants. Rabbits are fast breeders, and from March on through the growing season, young and old rabbits are always hungry.

Since it is unlawful to trap rabbits in the Summer, other methods must be used to discourage these pilferers in the garden plot. Gardens that have the protection of a close constructed fence possess the best method to keep out rabbits, but there are other less expensive ways of discouraging the bunnies.

Take a gallon of water and soap it well with napha soap, which makes the mixture stick, then add two tablespoons of aluminum sulfate and place it in the water, stirring it well. Put the mixture in a hand spray and go over the plants. Rabbits have a fondness for growing things that are sweet, so you can obtain a bitter spray by mixing one quarter of a pound of bitter aloes in a gallon of water, and spray it on the vegetables.

Repellents for rabbits do not always work. But you can try spraying with a solution made from three ounces of Epsom salts to one gallon of water. Then red pepper sprinkled on the plants when they are wet sometimes works. The best time to spray the garden is right after the sun goes down, so that the spray will be in full strength when the rabbits come to feed as soon as it becomes dark. If you use any sprays on the garden when the vegetables are about to be used, always be sure to wash them well in cold water to remove the mixtures.

Declares Pact

Would Lead

U. S. Into War

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—Sen. Flanders (R) Vt., declared today that the North Atlantic Security Pact would lead the United States "heavily and instantly to war" if another signatory nation were attacked.

Flanders took the Senate floor to deliver the first speech critical of the 12 nation alliance which pledges the United States, Canada and 10 European nations to consider an attack on one as an attack on all.

However, Flanders confessed he has not yet decided how he will vote on the pact.

He warned that the United States should not be drawn into a financial "ambush" which, he said, Josef Stalin and his associates have set for our destruction.

Two Of Holders

Of Fellowships

Refuse To Sign

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—The Atomic Energy Commission said today that two of the 497 holders of fellowships for atomic studies have refused to sign non-communist affidavits.

One resigned and the fellowship of the other was cancelled. Neither was identified.

Nineteen others to whom the questionnaires were sent June 1 had not been heard from on July 1. AEC reported that their government allotments are being held up.

The disclosure was made in the congressional atomic committee hearing of "incredible mismanagement" charges by Sen. Hickenlooper (R) Iowa, against AEC Chairman David E. Lilienthal.

President Truman continued his fight for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act today with an assertion that he wants a new administration labor bill brought onto the floor of the House.

The president told his news conference that he discussed the matter with congressional leaders earlier this week and had asked House Speaker Rayburn (D) Tex., to take such steps.

Rayburn told reporters after the weekly conference of congressional leaders with the president that a decision would be made later this week about the bringing out of a new administration labor bill.

Close Vote On Basing Point Issue Is Seen

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—A toss-up vote is anticipated in the House today on controversial legislation which would legalize the "good faith" use of the basing point pricing system by American industry.

Rep. Patman (D) Texas, chairman of the House Small Business committee, who has sharply attacked the bill as a threat to anti-trust enforcement, is hopeful of mustering enough support to kill the bill at the conclusion of the two-day debate.

Other members fought to restore amendments sponsored by Sen. Kefauver (D) Tenn. which were written into the legislation by the Senate but rejected by the House Judiciary committee.

To Clarify Confusion
The basing point system provides that a mixed freight rate shall be charged for a product in various areas of the country regardless of where it is manufactured.

The measure is essentially designed to clarify confusion caused by recent supreme court decisions by giving legal sanction to price absorption practices in industry if there is no evidence of conspiracy or collusion to prevent competition.

The bill establishes that a delivered price or basing point system is legal if the government presents no evidence of restraint of trade or price-fixing by the industry concerned. It provides that "good faith" meeting of competition through the use of such freight absorption practices shall be considered a full defense against anti-trust prosecution.

The Kefauver amendments would eliminate the "good faith" provisions of the bill.

Kiwanis Hears Convention Report

Delegates Give Report On International Convention At Atlantic City

New Castle Kiwanis club members heard an interesting report of the recent international convention held at Atlantic City last month from President John C. McGrath and Secretary L. C. Mantz, who were the official delegates of the local club, at their weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton Wednesday noon.

One of the outstanding addresses made, Mr. McGrath reported, was that given by Henry R. Luce, noted magazine editor, on Practical Idealism at Work, in which he outlined the good which is being accomplished by the Marshall Plan in Europe.

There were many other outstanding talks by noted Americans, and a good program of entertainment interspersing the business of the convention.

Big Run Presents Many Unusual Dolls

On Wednesday, July 6, an unusual collection of dolls was shown at the Big Run Playground. Dolls of all sizes and descriptions were on display.

Little Joanne Slamon won first prize with her "Sparkle Plenty" doll. Second prize went to Carolyn Sue Hink for her marigold doll in a green satin and lace dress, with blonde hair. A cowboy doll won third prize for Joellen Anodic. It had a grey outfit and cowboy hat, carrying a pistol.

Oldest doll, owned by Carolyn Sue Hink, was a large baby doll in white dress. It was twelve years old. The largest doll was owned by Tommie Tarnoci. The smallest by Eleanor Jean Hink, which was a bride doll all in white with red hair. Most unusual was a teddy bear in a pink dress displayed by Marlene Stalma.

Judges were Mrs. Dorothy Shattie, Mrs. Wanda Frank, and Mrs. Helen Bunnell.

Softball games have been played, with Big Run beating Home street, in the junior league. The senior team played Gaston Park and won.

On July 14, Big Run will have a picnic, with each child bringing his own lunch.

IN THE OPEN

The searing sun poked fiery fingers down through the trees and turned the wide creek bed into a mild humid inferno. My shirt became a limp wet cloth as I perspired at the task of hunting out hellgrammites on the riffles. An occasional passing cloud helped matters somewhat but by the time I retreated to the cooler aisles beneath the trees every pore in my hide was wide open and doing a copious business.

At one time there were hellgrammites in plenty in this stream. A half hour's work turning rocks and the bait box would be loaded. An army of fishermen has since scoured every riffle until now the clippers are almost extinct. Nowhere did I see the once familiar egg masses splashed under bridges and other places overhanging the water.

Crayfish Paradise

The rocky stream has become a crayfish paradise. It may be that this horde of fresh-water lobsters has helped decimate the hellgrammite colonies. I carefully turned rock after rock, and at the end of a half hour of steaming labor had found not one clipper big enough to bait a hook.

There were fresh raccoon tracks parading the muddy edges, and here and there the sorry remains of a hapless crawfish who had disappeared down a ringtail gullet. Wild hydrangea blooms hung over the stream, the shrubs clinging in large colonies to the steep banks. The beautiful purple-flowering raspberry, also native to these rocky banks, was staging a spectacular show. The full-blown blossoms dropped rosy petals onto the limpid water.

Gave Up Search

I finally had to give up on the hellgrammite search and splashed around after a dozen crayfish, which I rather rudely deprived of their tails. There are times when crab-tails make good bass bait, and at least they served to show some profit for the honest perspiration invested in the venture.

I pulled my way up the steep bank to the roadway high above the stream and moseyed back toward the car. Shiners flashed in the sunlight as they turned in the shallows below. The odd goats-beard, past flowering stage, hung over the roadway, and the big spikenard, cousin to the ginseng, was setting blossom for the showy fruit clusters which will appear in August.

The beautiful maiden hair fern is partial to the rich moist bank which is threaded by this narrow trail. The dripping rocks are a haven for mosses and lichens. Just looking at these cool shady retreats relieved the pressure of the boiling sun. I poked among the loose shale, but found no salamanders as addition tid-bits for the bass in the big holes down stream.

Rigged the Fly Rod

Finally I rigged the fly rod and pushed through the tall weed growth to the edge of the long pool. There was hardly a breath of air stirring and the water seemed to simmer gently. A well trod path along the edge indicated where so-called "sucker" fishermen had called havoc with the bass all during spawning season. These lawless poachers are one more reason why the true conservationist questions the huge expenditures for restocking.

There were three fishermen reeling in as I moved up to casting position. They had scored a clean zero. I splashed around at a great rate with an appetizing crab tail. Now and then a chub would bump the bait but nary a good solid bass run followed through to spark the afternoon. My guess is that the sensible bass were deep in the cool shade of a sunken log, laughing at my perspiring antics.

Screech Owl Complains
Late that night I sat at ease in an adirondack chair on a small promontory overlooking the valley behind the house. A barn owl snored from the sycamores by the creek, and a little screech owl complained from the darkness close by. The stream sang softly to itself as it tumbled through the rips at the wide bend below the garden. A quarter moon slowly unrolled its warm golden carpet of light across the valley's cold black floor. The barn owl coursed above the neighboring fields, uttering the peculiar rusty-hinge squeaking which accompanies this flight. I mixed a long, cold, countryman's nightcap and moseyed in to bed.

"To a jigger of dew, add six golden moonbeams. Then lace well with wind... and stir with a star."

Some Railroaders Return To Work In Harrisburg Area

HARRISBURG, July 7.—(INS)—Approximately 100 railroaders of a total 500 who were furloughed by the Pennsylvania Railroad in the Harrisburg area during the early June coal mine shut-down were back on the job today.

The bulk of the lay-offs were from the nearby Enola Steel Car Shops, which are still closed. The return men reported to work at the suburban Lucknow scrap dock, a company spokesman said.

Hear Evidence In Tokyo Rose Trial

Jury Of Six Men And Six Women Hearing Case In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—(INS)—Evidence intended to show that Iva Toguri D'Aquino elected to remain in Japan and work for that country during the war was slated to be produced today at her "Tokyo Rose" treason trial in San Francisco.

The prosecution was prepared to introduce a document purportedly written in the young Nisei woman's own hand in which she allegedly withdrew an application to be evacuated from Japan in 1942.

Government counsel was on the point of presenting this document in U. S. district court yesterday when the session was adjourned.

Presentation of the government's evidence began after Assistant Attorney General Tom De Wolfe made a 75-minute opening statement to the jury of six men and six women.

De Wolfe declared, in essence, that the 33-year-old defendant knew what she was doing when she took employment with radio Tokyo to make broadcasts to GIs and other allied troops in the Pacific.

Defense counsel already has announced it will seek to show that Los Angeles-born Iva never intended to commit treason but on the contrary was trapped in Japan by the outbreak of the war and became a victim of Japanese duress.

Pan-American Plane Returns To Ireland From 500 Miles Out

SHANNON, Ireland, July 7.—(INS)—A Pan-American World Airways strato-cruiser was forced to return to Shannon airport from 500 miles over the Atlantic today for a three-engine landing when one motor conked out.

The plane, bound from London to New York, carried 53 passengers including stage and movie star Danny Kaye, U. S. Ambassador to the Philippines Paul V. McNutt, and tennis stars Louise Brough and Mrs. Margaret DuPont.

Pan-American officials said the landing was a "routine" one engineered by pilot Capt. Haakon G. Gulbranson of Great Neck, Long Island, a veteran of more than 16,000 hours in the air.

No immediate explanation was given for the motor failure of the four-engine, twin-decked plane, the largest commercial airliner in operation and only recently placed in Trans-Atlantic service.

Award Contract For New Dam On Clarion River

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—The U. S. Army Engineers here have awarded a $4,887,019 contract to the Hunkin-Conkey Construction Co., Blairsville, Pa., for the construction of an earth-fill flood control dam, complete with spillway, on the east branch of the Clarion river, Elk county.

The dam site is about seven miles above Johnsonburg. When filled, the reservoir to be created will cover about 1370 acres and will be more than six miles long.

The dam will be 1600 feet long and 184 feet high.

The state now owns more than 800 acres of the 1900 acres of wooded country needed for the reservoir area.

Johnsonburg and other upper Clarion river towns will benefit chiefly from the project.

The art of pantomime was practiced by the ancient Romans. The fact that in the great open theaters the public could see more easily than they could hear is thought to have contributed to the popularity of this mute acting.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, July 7.—The late World War snafued the movie careers of a flock of leading men, but most of them are beginning to roll again after a tough siege of reconverting.

Jeffrey Lynn, for instance, was considered a sure cinch for top screen acclaim before he donned a navy uniform. But when he hied back to Hollywood and returned to civvies little happened to his career.

Facing Stardom

Then producers William Pine and William Thomas recently handed Lynn one of the co-starring roles in Paramount's sea adventure "Captain China." They said:

"Jeffrey is a great bet for stardom. Many new faces cropped up while he was away and it often takes time to get re-established in Hollywood. We think 'Captain China' will put him back on the road to stardom."

Warner Brothers think Wayne Morris will be a star-bound personality after the release of "Task Force." Wayne has been in several flickers since his return from the South Pacific.

Robert Preston is again coming to the front. Like Lynn and Morris, he marked time after his return to civilian life. Bob's latest was with Barbara Stanwyck in "The Lady Gambles" and his stock is up to the point that every studio in town is bidding for his services.

Hayden Returns

One of the most prominent popularity leaps was made by handsome blond Sterling Hayden when he first hit the screen. He was Hollywood's newest idol.

After five years of war service, Sterling returned to Hollywood, and little happened.

He was recently given a top role in "El Paso," a color western and now has the co-starring spot with Dorothy Lamour and Dan Duryea in "Manhandled." The suspense melodrama should start his career anew.

Robert Stack was one of movie-land's most promising young actors. After giving Deanne Durbin her first screen kiss he became as well known as any star in Hollywood.

For several years after returning from the war, Bob didn't have a screen assignment. Now he's working regularly and has been in several hit pictures recently.

Sterling Gets Lead

The same is holding true for Robert Sterling. A capable and handsome young actor, Sterling has just been given a lead in a big picture, RKO's "Roughshod," which goes into release soon.

John Howard gathered one of the best records of any Hollywoodian in uniform, but the screen roles have been few and far between for the actor who scored a personal triumph in "The Philadelphia Story."

Howard is now starring in a series of television shorts. Movie producers have seen them and are now bidding for his services again.

SLOW TO STOP

NEW YORK.—(INS)—The New York Automobile club says that in the time it takes the average driver to get his foot from the gas pedal to the foot brake at 20 miles per hour, the car will travel 22 feet. It takes another 30 feet to come to a complete stop.

Lightning Destroys Two Newville Barns

NEWVILLE, Pa., July 7.—(INS)

—Striking lightning today was blamed for fires which destroyed two barns during an over-night driving storm which struck the Newville, Cumberland county area.

The barn on the farm of Paul T. Stum, Newville R. D., was enveloped by flames after lightning struck and a recent harvest of hay, barley and wheat was destroyed.

Several miles away lightning assaulted the farm of Edward McElwee, near Newville. Telephone wires were damaged by the storm and McElwee drove six miles to summon aid. He also lost a recent harvest.

State Boys Camp Opening Near

Between 2650 And 2750
Youths Will Encamp For
First Time At In-diantown Gap

HARRISBURG, July 7.—(INS)—Notices to report to Camp Penn, the state's newly organized summer camp for boys on the vast Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, were en route today to more than 2,650 Pennsylvania youths.

Between 2,650 and 2,750 boys between 14 and 16 will pioneer the encampment, according to a camp spokesman. About 5,000 youths are expected to participate in the 1950 encampment.

Youths selected by local county officials will arrive at the camp site at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation July 13. The outing will continue until July 29.

Camp Renovated
A force of 150 permanent post personnel currently are completing preparations for the arrival of the campers on the 65,000 acre army training site. Barracks have been cleaned and painted, cots and other equipment set up and grounds tidied, the spokesman reported.

In addition 15 camp officials will spend the week prior to the boys' arrival in laying the administrative groundwork.

Upon arrival at the camp each boy will be given a physical and dental checkup and assigned to one of approximately 165 counselors trained in camping practices. A staff of 25 physicians, recruited from recent medical college graduates and county medical officers, five trained nurses and several dental technicians will be on hand.

Col. Edwin H. Feather, in charge of the two-week program, has completed arrangements for a full day of activities for each day of the camp.

Full-Day Program

Day activities will include nearly all types of outdoor athletics and games, expert swimming instruction and instruction in citizenship and Pennsylvania history.

Evening activities will include song-fests, boxing matches, amateur contests and visits by sport celebrities. In addition each camper will participate in hikes and one overnight camping expedition under the guidance of a camp counselor.

The boys will observe Governor's Day July 24 in honor of Gov. James H. Duff who recommended enactment of the $600,000 two-year program to the 1949 legislature.

The commonwealth will provide all expenses for campers, including transportation and camping clothing which each boy will be allowed to take home.

Songs Sung By Marching Pilgrims

ISRAELITES GO SINGING ON WAY TO JERUSALEM

The pilgrims going to church.

"O give thanks unto Jehovah; for he is good."—Psalm 136:1.

Psalm 120-134

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Is there anything more enjoyable than for a group of people to get together for a good song? The many woes that plague the world today seem to melt away when we join our voices in song.

We sing when we are happy; when we are in church or Sunday school; and the songs we have sung in our childhood days in Sunday school remain with us all our lives. Young people (or older ones) on hikes, or gathered around an outdoor fire, almost always feel the urge to break into song. Happy is the home where the members of the family sing together.

In the home of this writer, all the family sang. On Sunday evenings we would sing the hymns of our church, and today it is one of the pleasantest of home memories. Such singing should be encouraged. It is not everyone who can play a musical instrument, but most can sing, and who can be angry with his brother, sister or friend if they join in song?

Possibly if men and women of different nations could sing together instead of arguing over tails and that, tensions would lessen and we really would live together as brothers instead of enemies, seeing which one can take advantage of the others.

We find the title, "A Song of Degrees," over each psalm, has no significance for us. These seem to be marching songs, probably sung as caravans of pilgrims walked on their way to Jerusalem for the holy feasts.

Going to see Jerusalem, the Holy City, where the great temple was, must have made these people very happy, and they sang as they were on their way, thanking Jehovah for their blessings and for His help in past troubles.

The first Psalm in our lesson today—the 120th—seems especially appropriate for us of today when we have ended a terrible war and fear that another may be near.

"In my distress I cried unto the Lord, and He heard me." Deliver my soul, O Lord, from lying lips, and from a deceitful tongue. . . My soul hath long dwelt with him that hateth peace. I am for peace; but when I speak, they are for war."

The 121st Psalm is so beautiful and comforting that we love to dwell on it: "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help."

"My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth. He will not suffer thy foot to be moved; He that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep. . . The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil: He shall preserve thy soul."

"The Lord shall preserve thee going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore."

Too many people in these days do not know the comfort that church going gives. They would not be able to say with the marching Pilgrims:

"I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord."

"Our feet shall stand within thy gates, O Jerusalem. . . Whither the tribes go up, the tribes of the Lord, unto the testimony of Israel, to give thanks unto the name of the Lord."

"Pray for the peace of Jerusalem; they shall prosper that love thee."

"Peace be within Thy walls, and prosperity within thy palaces. For my brethren's and companions' sake, I will now say, Peace be within thee."

The word "Jerusalem" means "City of Peace." Alas, that it has seen so little peace. We can, however, now be hopeful for its future.

Psalm 133 begins: "Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!"

The last psalm assigned us is short, and is addressed to the night-watchers of the temple, and the teacher should explain to the pupils the procedure as related by the commentator.

"Behold, bless ye the Lord, all ye servants of the Lord, which by night stand in the house of the Lord."

"Lift up your hands in the sanctuary, and bless the Lord. The Lord that made heaven and earth bless thee out of Zion."

The furs will be short-haired. The fit will be sharply-defined.

Coat makers predicted today in New York that tweed and broadcloth will be the all-out favorite fabrics for autumn in coeds' outdoor wear.

The best fur trimmings (mainly in small, pointed collars) will come in Persian lamb, beaver or muskrat.

The fitted silhouette can be princess-style, belted, or half-belted. Just so the waist is small, and the skirt slightly flared.

January Grad Will Be Last Case Coed

CLEVELAND — (INS) — When Miss Ethel Love graduates from Case Institute of Technology next January, she will take with her more than just a diploma.

The last bit of femininity in the school will depart with the former Thompson Products employee.

Dr. Douglass Miller, executive to Dr. T. Keith Glennan, Case president, said that following June commencement, Case will bar women undergraduates.

"The institute is devoted to preparing men for useful careers in science and engineering," Dr. Miller said. "During the past six years the administration relaxed admissions to accept 13 women in freshmen enrollments. In barring women undergraduates, Case is reverting to its original policy."

Miss Love, a major in electrical engineering, was inspired to enter Case during wartime employment at Thompson Products.

Get Indiantown Gap Ready For State National Guardsmen

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., July 7.

—(INS)—An advance party of 200 officers and enlisted men worked today to put the Indiantown Gap military reservation into shape for the encampment of the 10th Corps Artillery and the 11th Regimental combat team from Philadelphia. Approximately 5,000 Pennsylvania National Guardsmen, minus those from the 28th Infantry Division, will open a two weeks encampment Saturday.

About 2,000 Virginia troops making up the 176th Regimental combat team and the 560th Field Artillery Battalion also will maneuver at Indiantown during the PNG encampment.

A&P makes it FUN to get out in the SUN!

Customers' Corner

A good food store must be a clean store. We believe our customers are entitled to top quality food at low prices, served in clean, healthful surroundings.

That's why we train and instruct our employees to keep all trays and cases and scales scrubbed and sanitary; to keep refuse and packing cases out of the aisles and off the sidewalks; and to keep floors and grocery racks clean and orderly.

Sometimes during rush periods it's hard to keep a store as neat as it should be. But that's our job, and you will be doing us a favor if you will let us know if your A&P store ever fails in any way to measure up to our high standards of cleanliness. Please write:

Examination Of Double Killer Being Planned

SANTA ROSA, Cal., July 7.—(INS)—Henry Brun Guldbrandsen, confessed Valley of the Moon bludgeon slayer, was held in Santa Rosa today for psychiatric examination.

Dr. Walter C. Rappaport, superintendent of the Agnew State hospital, made a preliminary examination of the former convict and merchant seaman last night shortly after he was booked at the jail on two counts of murder and on charges of rape, assault and battery.

Guldbrandsen was returned to Santa Rosa from Eureka where he surrendered Tuesday night and signed a statement admitting he killed his two cabin mates, Peter Flint, 27, a merchant marine officer, and Peter Jensen, 54, gardener at the Sonoma State Home.

Mrs. Paget was reported in serious condition at Sonoma Valley Community hospital, but physicians said she is expected to recover.

She was slugged over the head with a heavy grain pestle which Guldbrandsen admitted he used to kill his two cabin mates, Peter Flint, 27, a merchant marine officer, and Peter Jensen, 54, gardener at the Sonoma State Home.

Mrs. Paget charged that Guldbrandsen lured her to the cabin on the pretext that Flint, an old friend, had broken his arm. She said Guldbrandsen then slugged and raped her.

Guldbrandsen, who was released about three weeks ago from the state prison at Chino in southern California, denied the rape charge.

He said "an impulse" motivated him to kill his two friends.

Local Elections Occur In Fall

Twenty-One Cities Of State To Select New Mayors In November

BONUS ISSUE TO GO BEFORE VOTERS

HARRISBURG, July 7.—(INS)—Local government elections moved toward the political spotlight today with voters preparing to choose several hundred municipal officials including mayors of 21 cities.

The primary balloting will be held September 13 and the general election November 8.

The only major office to be considered on a statewide basis will be the $21,000-a-year superior court post held by Judge William E. Hirt, of Erie. Hirt probably will be endorsed for another 10-year term.

The proposed 500 million dollar bonus for World War II veterans also will be submitted to the electorate on a statewide basis. A simple majority will decide whether the bonus—already sanctioned by the legislature—will be paid starting in 1950.

Battle in Pittsburgh
The mayoralty battle in Pittsburgh where Democratic National Committeeman David L. Lawrence will seek a second term also will come in for its share of interest.

Lawrence, undisputed Democratic "boss" in Pennsylvania, will stand for re-election along with four Democratic councilmen. On a countywide basis, Allegheny voters will choose a sheriff and coroner.

Philadelphia, the state's largest city will not choose a mayor this year but will fill two vacancies in city council. The results may herald a voting trend in the city in view of the narrow margin by which Democrats were victorious there in the 1949 presidential election.

Seranton, the commonwealth's third largest city, is slated to elect a mayor, three councilmen and other officers. According to the State Municipal Affairs bureau.

Nineteen To Name Mayors
Nineteen of the 47 third class cities will elect mayors including Shamokin which will abandon its borough status in January when officials chosen in November will administer its affairs.

Mayors' jobs are at stake in Bethlehem, Butler, Clairton, Connecting, Cory, Duquesne, Franklin, Hazelton, Jeannette, Lancaster, McKeesport, Meadville, Monessen, Nanticoke, New Kensington, Pittston, Pottsville and Sunbury, the bureau reported.

A host of councilmanic positions will be chosen as well as 18 controllers, seven treasurers, one-third of all aldermen and one-half of the assessors in third class cities.

Burgesses for the approximately 940 boroughs in Pennsylvania will be elected. Other borough jobs before the voters will be about one-half of all councilmen, one auditor and a tax collector in each borough.

Justices of the peace and roughly one-half of all constables, the bureau's figures showed.

The state's 61 first class townships will elect about one-half of the township commissioners, half of the auditors, all of the township treasurers and all townships with controllers will elect.

About 1,500 second class townships will vote for a township supervisor and one auditor each. Assessors and tax collectors were elected last year.

Sheriffs will be chosen in 26 counties. Twenty prothonotaries and 20 coroners jobs are to be filled, plus 13 district attorneys, 10 treasurers, and nine registers of wills, the bureau said.

Voters in 18 counties will choose common pleas court judges plus 22 other lower court jurists.

Drought Damages Crops Of State

Eastern Portion Of State Harder Hit By Lack Of Rain And High Temperatures

HARRISBURG, July 7.—(INS)—Pennsylvania farm crops today are showing serious effects of insufficient rain.

The past week was the sixth consecutive week of subnormal rainfall.

The State Agriculture department, reporting results of its weekly federal-state crop survey, said the eastern half of the state is suffering most from the rain shortage.

Rainfall averaged .18 inch compared with the average of nearly one inch for the week while temperatures at average of 75 degrees were five degrees above normal.

Pastures in many parts of the state, particularly eastern sections, are turning brown and providing little or no feed for livestock, the department said. In the same area truck crops show poor growth.

Early potatoes being dug in the southeast generally show the effect of insufficient rain. Late varieties need rain to promote good vine growth.

Corn fields in central and northern counties show uneven growth while the planting of much of the buckwheat crop has been delayed by dry soil conditions.

Tobacco Suffers

The setting of celery and cabbage plants continues only as weather permits, while late tobacco plants are suffering. Fruits are sizing slowly and only fair yields of peas for canning are reported in central counties.

Harvesting of good yields of wheat continue in southeastern counties and the barley harvest is nearing completion in the same area.

Hunt Attacker Of 17 Women In Knoxville, Tenn.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 7.—(INS)—Knoxville police today intensified their hunt for a phantom "sex fiend" who reportedly has attacked at least 17 women and the city council posted a $1,100 reward for the man's capture.

Chairman Milton Roberts of the council's law enforcement committee said several of the women criminally assaulted by the night marauder were members of prominent families.

The council said police reported only six women have been attacked.

Five victims reportedly were University of Tennessee co-eds, but faculty officials said they had no such reports.

Capt. Frank Reams of the police records division said only two assaults have been reported to his office.

SEARS HEAD IS CONFIDENT

CHICAGO—(INS)—Gen. Robert E. Wood, chairman of Sears, Roebuck & Co., huge retail and mail order chain, says an end to the business slump is in sight.

Wood has expressed confidence that commodity prices will stabilize and business will once again forge ahead by the latter part of this year.

He said that profits probably will be lower in 1949 than in 1948 but "not enough to make for any great number of insolvencies".

He pointed out that, although retail sales are running between five and 10 per cent lower than last year, all time records were set in 1948.

Wood said unemployment while mounting is still less than five per cent of the country's labor force.

As for falling prices, the mail order official said this "should prove a constructive development paving the way for economic health in the future—if they do not not decline too far."

Deer Forced Back From Ocean Swim

SANTA MONICA, Calif., July 7.—(INS)—A three-point buck deer which tried to swim the Pacific ocean was back in the southern California hills today—a bit tired but much wiser.

The deer was chased into the ocean by dogs and struck out as though headed for Honolulu. Lifeguards herded the frantic animal back to shore, where it collapsed in exhaustion.

Oxygen was fed the deer through a rubber mask, and soon he was almost as good as new. When the buck could stand, the lifeguards turned him loose.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB
(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
(Distributed By International News Service)

WILD OATS FARM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., July 7.—Ever since I can remember, people have been talking, talking, talking—a little drearily if you ask me—about the emancipation of women.

Often I wasn't certain what they were talking about, and I don't think they were either.

But, honey, I know now.

I just done been emancipated and peace, it's wonderful!

Something new has been added to the kitchen. It is a very fancy, shiny big white enamel gadget known as an electric dish washer.

And for the life of me, I can't understand why someone didn't tell me about 'em before.

The sassy thing just sets there, washing and drying the dishes slick as a whistle, and look, Ma, no hands!

Rescuer of Damsel

When a large truck accompanied by an unknown young man lumbered into our driveway yesterday there was no outward sign that it was, in reality, a white knight on Citation charging to the rescue of a damsel in distress.

But such, indeed, it was. And I think the mo'om pictures in the next remake of the remake of "I Remember Mama" could include a sure-fire tear jerker scene where the deliverer arrives with an electric dish washer for Mother Machree, surrounded at the moment by umbrage beds and dirty dishes left by 24-hour hands.

"A present, Mrs. Robb," said the white knight, who turned out to be a Mr. Lee Wells of Union, N. J., as he pressed a note into my hot hand and as the kitchen of the kitchen was unloaded with ruffles and flourishes.

The note explained all, and it also explains in a lovely way the power of the press. After the usual formalities, it continued:

Result of Recent Complaint

"I recently read with bleeding heart and tear-dimmed eyes your column on the general hardships and terrors of life in the country for the city slicker who is a week-end farmer.

"As a sincere fan if not your best friend, I was particularly touched by the week-end hardships that resulted in dishpan hands right up to the second joint, whereas in town for five days a week you have nothing to do but loll over a hot typewriter and apish-button apartment.

"Naturally, I feel that if you had followed my admonition never to go into the first joint, you would not now be in the second one.

"But since that is where you say you are, I am off to the rescue and am sending you this small token of my esteem. Also, I am sending you the bill. Pay for it out of the household kitty.

"I wouldn't mind paying for it myself. But I know you. If I pay for it, I will never hear the last of it. When the girls ask you what your husband gave you for your birthday or for Michaelmas or for Christmas, I can just see you patting their milk coats and saying bravely, with a face as sad as Little Nell, the match girl: 'Oh, he gimme an electric dish washer.' And I would never be able to hold up my head again at the Stork Club.

"Okay. So here is an electric dish-washer. And don't let me read any more public pronouncements on your domestic agonies. Just do the dishes and keep still, and I'll

Mercersburg Man In Institution For Poisoning Cake

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., July 7.—(INS)—A 45-year-old Franklin county man who pleaded guilty February 7 to poisoning a cake with intent to kill was in the custody today of the state institution for defective delinquents at Huntingdon.

Judge E. C. Winger ordered Ralph H. McMillen, of Mercersburg, sent to Huntingdon after a study of the record.

The cake was sent to John Ensminger, of Mercersburg, for refusing McMillen permission to attend the funeral of Pauline Keel, a niece of Ensminger.

Atlantic Pact Critics Open Their Battle

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—Critics of the North Atlantic Security Pact take over the Senate stage today to begin an uphill battle against heavy numerical odds.

Sens. Watkins (R) Utah and Donnell (R) Mo., will lead off for a small band of opponents or admitted skeptics.

They will speak in an atmosphere electrically charged as the result of flare-ups in the Senate Foreign Relations committee hearings, which they attended as "guests."

Committee Chairman Connally (D) Tex., accused the two of consuming 75 per cent of the time in questioning witnesses. Watkins walked out of the hearings after a difference with Connally. Donnell in his speech will disclose for the first time his position on the pact. Although critical of it, he has carefully refrained from saying how he will vote. Watkins has left no doubt that without amendments he proposes, the pact is unacceptable to him.

The alliance pledges the United States, Canada and 10 European nations to consider an attack on one as an attack on all. It binds them to collective action in event of aggression.

Three senators who announced they will vote "no," said they were ready to bring up "rear guard" fireworks with brief speeches. They are Sens. Malone (R) Nev., Langer (R) N. D., and Taylor (D) Idaho.

At stake as the battle really gets going are only a handful of as yet uncertain votes.

Admiral Halsey Will Be Guest At Altoona Event

ALTOONA, Pa., July 7.—(INS)—Fleet Admiral William F. Halsey Jr., USN (ret.) will join Gov. James H. Duff on Governor's Day August 8 during the Altoona centennial celebration, it was announced today.

Congressman James E. Van Zandt of Altoona, said Halsey had accepted an official invitation for the ceremonies.

Judges were Tish Kearns and Audrey Anderson.

Thomas Netter was an English, Carmelite monk, confessor to Henry V (1387-1422) and Henry VI (1421-1471). He was sent on an embassy to Poland, Lithuania and Prussia.

Wheat Harvest Well Under Way On Lawrence County Farms

Harvest time, typical of the scenes in the state for the past week is the picture above, a tractor drawn reaper and binder, which cuts the wheat and binds it at the same time into small bundles called sheaves. Sheaves are in return piled in stacks of seven and nine and are called shocks. Shocks are dried in the sun, until the threshers come, bringing their threshing machines onto the scene for the yearly threshing.

Large farmers have their own combines that cut the wheat, thresh it and put it into bags, then dropping the bags of wheat as the binders drop the sheaves. This is an more economical procedure, but most farmers are not able to have one of these large machines, and have to wait for the cooperation threshers to do their threshing.

Large wheat crop is expected throughout the county this year.

Judge Lamoree
Sentences ThreeCommissioners Asked To Pay For Damages To Car

IN COURT HOUSE

Three young men were sentenced Wednesday morning by Judge John G. Lamoree, sitting in court room number two in Lawrence County court.

William Grissinger, plea to larceny was fined $1 and costs and four months in the county jail.

Robert E. Williams, plea to burglary, sent to White Hill, a reformatory near Harrisburg.

Paul L. Smith, plea to burglary, placed upon probation for three years.

WRONG COUNTY

In a letter to the county commissioners a firm of lawyers located in another state demand $134.18 for damages to the car of their client Carlyle O. Wolfords.

The letter says the car was damaged near Prospect, Pa., due to a washout on the highway.

Several things are wrong with the claim. First there is no evidence of a receipted repair bill. Second, the county does not have jurisdiction over any highways, they being either township or state. Third, Prospect is in Butler county.

ASKS DISABILITY PAYMENT

In a suit filed by George Burchart against the Prudential Life Insurance Company of America, disability payment is asked upon an insurance policy issued to the late Helena Burchart.

It is alleged by Mr. Burchart, administrator, that a policy was issued upon the life of Miss Burchart in the amount of $5,000. In it was included a disability payment of $10 per month for each thousand dollars of the policy.

It is set out that Miss Burchart was invalided from January 1, 1943 to August 5, 1948 by a heart condition and was a total disability case. The claim is for $1,810 with interest from April 6, 1949.

American Doctor

Refuses To Pose With Pretty Air Hostess After Arrival In England

LONDON, July 7.—(INS)—A touch of old world chivalry from the new world left newspapermen and photographers somewhat abashed at London airport.

They had gathered to welcome 89-year-old Dr. George Searle, ex-mayor of Plymouth, Ohio, who had flown to England with his wife to receive the honor of the freedom of Plymouth, Devon.

Photographers wanted the doctor to pose with a pretty air hostess but he courteously refused, saying: "There's only one woman I want to be photographed with... my wife."

The couple posed smilingly together and were cheered by the onlookers when they revealed they had just celebrated their 49th wedding anniversary.

Dr. Searle was born near Buckingham Palace, the king of England's London home. He went to America when he was eight years old.

BRIDE'S PROBLEMS

"I am planning a large church wedding and would like your advice on the following points: (1) There will be four bridesmaids, my close friends. I have two married sisters, one of whom will be the matron-of-honor. What part might the other married sister play? I am told that a married woman cannot be a 'maid.' (2) My fiancé is in the Army. Will it be correct to have an honor guard of soldiers form an arch as we come out of the church. This will be an evening wedding at 8 o'clock. (3) What do you suggest that my attendants wear on their heads?"

Answer: Usually there is a maid-of-honor (single woman) or a matron-of-honor (a married woman) in addition to any number of bridesmaids from possibly two to six. Although the term "bridesmaids" indicates maidens, there are nowadays as many matrons as there are maidens among the bridesmaids. So your other married sister may be among the bridesmaids or if you prefer to be impartial, she may share honors with the one who is to be matron-of-honor: in other words, have two matrons-of-honor. Have them walk up the aisle together. However, only one will actually attend to your veil, flowers, etc., which should be the one standing by your side at the altar.

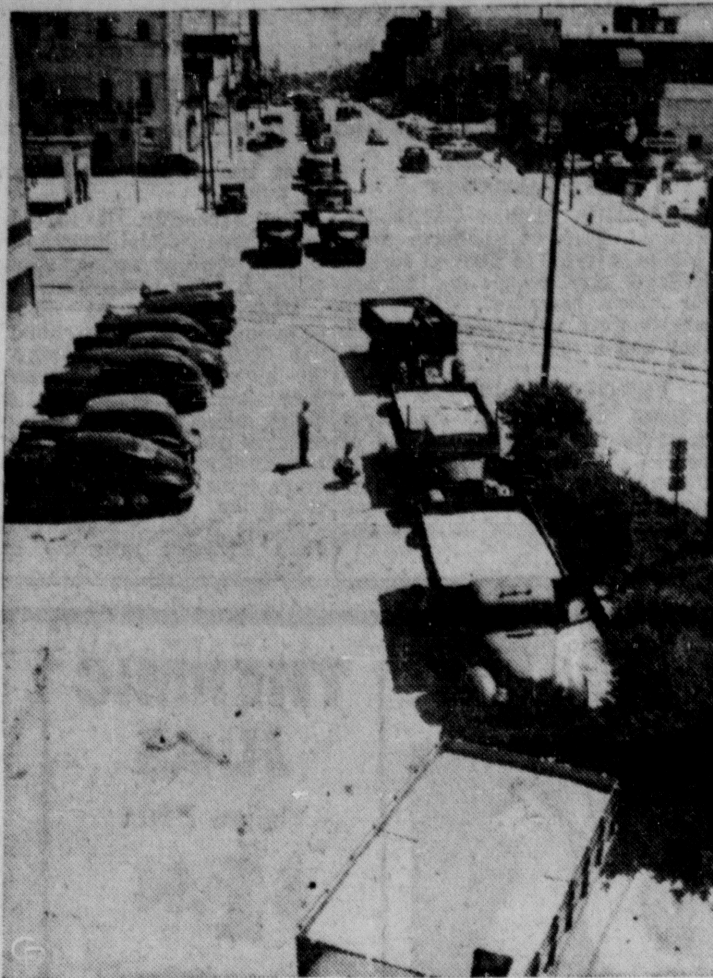

(2) If the groom-to-be is an officer and all of the male members of the wedding party will be officers, there may be a guard of honor at the church steps. The ushers form an archway of steel with their swords, under which the bride and groom and the remaining attendants leave the church. In a military wedding, the ushers are the first in the recessional (instead of last) so that they may arrange this archway just prior to the exit of the bride and groom from the church.

(3) Your attendants may wear flowers in their hair, Juliet caps to match their dresses or large hats. The matron or matrons-of-honor might have attached to their caps matching black veils reaching to their shoulders.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers including stamped, addressed envelopes.

Report Plant Site

Put Up For Sale

MEADVILLE, Pa., July 7.—The Federal government has put up for sale the site of a huge wartime TNT plant which it thinks is worth about $15 an acre—or $150,000. The Pennsylvania Game Commission has indicated it wants the land—but it wants it for nothing.

The commission's executive director, Thomas B. Frye, said the land would be just the thing for game propagation purposes. He said that under the Burke-Wherry Act, the land could be turned over to the state free of charge with the Government in event of a national emergency. He added, however, the state "may bid for it" if it doesn't get it free.

Act Of Courtesy
Saves Life Of Philadelphia Boy

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—(INS)—Fourteen-year-old Harry Goodwin owes his life today to an act of courtesy. The youth stepped back to allow Miss Helen Fawley, 22, to enter a bus before him, and as he did so, a mail truck careened out of control and struck the girl.

Miss Fawley, who was hurled 10 feet, was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital. The boy suffered knee and hip bruises. The truck driver, identified as James B. Upshaw, 26, told police a cinder blew into his eye a moment before the accident, and he lost control of the vehicle.

First ascent by man in a balloon was made by Pilatre de Rozier at Paris, France, in 1783.

NEW STATE ROAD MAP AVAILABLE SOON TO PUBLIC

HARRISBURG.—The record breaking improvement program launched by the Pennsylvania State Highway department which has made it the leading post-war road builder in the nation is reflected in the new edition of the annual Official Road Map of Pennsylvania.

Several innovations have been added to the map. Major relocation projects now under construction and scheduled for completion during the year are indicated by block symbols. These include the construction of U. S. 422 between Butler and New Castle; U. S. 322 north of Uniontown; U. S. 322 northwest of Chester and elsewhere throughout the state.

The eastward extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike from Mid-dlesex to King-of-Prussia is shown along with roadside rests that are being developed by the State Department of highways and will eventually number at least one in each county of the state.

Traffic route numbers have been brought up to date. Pennsylvania state police stations have been revised to meet current locations and airports are marked.

The reverse of the map contains enlarged maps of principal cities which have also been revised to reflect through traffic routes. The cover pictures a typical Pennsylvania landscape. The maps are being distributed without request to 600 hotels, 200 chambers of commerce, 420 motor clubs within the state initially and a wider distribution will be made as additional copies are received from the printers. The map is free and the State Highway Department expects that a quarter million copies will be needed to meet the demands of motorists.

BANK EMBEZZLER GETS THREE YEARS

NEW YORK, July 7.—(INS)—Richard H. Crowe, 41, National City Bank executive who admitted embezzling $883,660 in bonds and cash from the bank, was sentenced Wednesday to three years in a federal penitentiary.

The sentence was imposed by Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard, to whom Crowe said: "I'm sorry I did it, I really am." All but about $2,000 of the embezzled funds have been returned. The bulk of it was found hidden in Crowe's home at Eltingville, Staten Island.

Tips For Vacation Minus Flat Tires

AKKON, O.—(INS)—With more of America's 33,000,000 motorists expected to "hit the road" this summer than ever before—many of them in over-age vehicles, Claude R. Mason, tire expert, has listed 20 tips for a "flatless" vacation.

Mason said the average motorist forgets that there are more than 90 things that can cause a tire to fail or wear out prematurely. In the interests of safety and trouble-free vacation driving, he said these hazards should be avoided:

1. Improper inflation (over or under);
2. releasing air pressure from "hot" tires;
3. using oversize or undersize tires;
4. neglect of cuts, snags and bruises;
5. prolonged use of boot or blow-out patches;
6. fast starts and sudden stops;
7. scraping, bumping or driving over curbs;
8. excessive speed around curves and on straightaways;
9. driving on street car tracks;
10. running over rocks and other sharp objects.
11. Parking on oily floors;
12. leaking, loose or uncapped valves;
13. use of inaccurate gauges;
14. infrequent checking of tire pressure;
15. worn, leaky or wrong-sized tubes;
16. improperly mounted tires and tubes;
17. failure to remove foreign objects from treads;
18. failure to cross-switch tires every 5,000 miles;
19. use of wrong-size tire flaps, and
20. improper alignment of wheels.

Time was when the nose with its keen olfactory sense was one of the body defenses of primitive man.

Ex-RAF Pilots Shun Czech Air Force Service

LONDON.—(INS)—Only 20 out of the 300 ex-RAF pilots who returned to their native Czechoslovakia after the war are now serving in the air force. The rest have either escaped from the country or been arrested.

This was revealed by Lt. Col. Jaroslav Muzika, a former squadron leader in the RAF and one of four pilots who recently made a daring escape with their wives and children.

Their escape was planned over a long period. It was agreed that Capt. Jaroslav Syc, the only one among the four men who had not been grounded after the Communist coup last year, should obtain a plane at the Military Air Academy at Hradec and fly it to the nearby airport at Nachod, where the others were waiting.

At Nachod a policeman realized that this was an unauthorized flight and attempted to stop them. They knocked him unconscious, removed his gun, and took off without further opposition.

Elude Border Guards
Near Marianske Lazne, not far from the German frontier, border police were seen running to their planes at one of the special airports used for the prevention of escapes. But, after crossing the German frontier, the flight to England was uneventful.

"Conditions in Czechoslovakia are getting worse every day," said Lt. Col. Muzika. "The Communists claim over 2,000,000 members, and, perhaps, this figure is correct, but very few of them are sincere Communists. They are forced to join in order to keep their job."

"If a man loses his job, he is sent either into the mines, the building trades, or farm work. No attention is paid to his professional capacity.

"The Russians are not much in evidence in Prague, but they are there—working behind the scenes. They absolutely control the secret police. Mass deportations to Soviet slave camps are taking place constantly."

FISH SAUSAGES
LANSING, Mich.—(INS)—Dr. Peter I. Tack of Michigan State college is trying to develop recipes utilizing carp, sucker and herring for "fish sausages". First attempts were unsuccessful because they had a rubberlike consistency.

VENTILATED PRETZELS
NEW YORK.—(INS)—Industrial progress has come to the aid of pretzel benders. Westinghouse Electric Corp. reports that tiny three-inch fans, which blow air on dough, "case harden" it for easier handling.

GAMING PAYS FOR AIRPORT

BUENOS AIRES.—(INS)—The new "Ministro Pistarini" airport at Ezeiza, on the outskirts of Buenos Aires, is expected to become one of the world's largest air hubs.

Simultaneously, it will be a fancy international tourist resort with attractions ranging from an artificial "spa" to gambling rooms.

Modern equipment of radio communications, radar, blind flying directors, huge hangar and air strips will be intermingled with hotels, restaurants, night clubs, roulette tables and other alluring devices to attract the idle rich, barely a half hour automobile drive from the Argentine capital city limits.

Public Works Minister General Juan Pistarini says the entire 6,700 hectare airport will be completed by 1950.

The Argentine government expects the new airport to be unique in one respect: it will be self-sustaining.

According to Pistarini—who has been directing the construction during the past four years—airports like Miami and La Guardia require government subsidies of 70 per cent of their operation costs. The new Argentine airport is expected to cover all costs and still leave a neat profit from gambling which is state-operated in Argentina.

Frediani Brothers Officially Open Store Thursday

Newly Remodeled Store On East Washington Street Carries New Line Of Stock

Bargains are always something to crow about, and there were bargains galore at the opening of the Frediani Brothers' newly remodeled grocery store today.

Starting in business 25 years ago in New Castle, the brothers have been at their present location on East Washington street for the past 10 years. The re-decoration of the store began a month ago, and now an entirely new, up-to-date store is ready for the public.

The new store "face" is of light green glass tile. A refrigerated window for the display of meats will be the only one of its kind in New Castle. The people can actually view the meats that are for sale. The inside of the store presents an attractive picture with white glass tile walls. Unusual in its design, the walls at either end of the store are covered with wallpaper of a large pattern.

Not only are the decorations attractive to the eye but also the prices. Entirely new merchandise has been placed on the shelves.

Miss Helen Pakovitch and Ernest Frediani are in charge of the groceries and fruits. Managing the meats is Nick Pascarella and Angelo Frediani is the general manager.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERP

America's leading composers of popular music have one thing in common. When surrounded by convivial companions, all of them love to sit down at the piano and play their own compositions. Truth to tell, they cannot help themselves. Should they ever protest that they are accused of being ingrates and spoil-sports.

The composer who needed least urging was the late George Gershwin. He frankly delighted in playing his songs on all possible occasions—and how he could play them, too! I remember one dinner party at George Kaufman's house where not only Gershwin, but Irving Berlin, Richard Rodgers and Arthur Schwartz were present. We were having dessert in the ground-floor dining room when Kaufman rose and announced dramatically, "When I give the signal, all composers can make a break for the piano on the second floor. The one who gets there first can play his own songs for exactly one hour."

Everybody laughed and settled back for more talk. When we finally did climb back to the second floor, however, there was George Gershwin seated at the piano, happily improvising the theme of "Embraceable You." "I'm a little bothered by that crack Kaufman made downstairs," he confided to me. "Do you think he was kidding?"

County Youths To Leave For State Camp Wednesday

Will Go To Butte, Early In Morning To Depart For Camp Penn

Twenty-six Lawrence county youths are anxiously looking forward to next Wednesday, July 13, as that is the day they will leave here for Indian Gap Military Reservation to spend two weeks in camp as the guests of the state. The youths will be quartered at Camp Penn and will have an outing at the expense of the commonwealth, every want being provided for, including transportation to the camp.

However, County Chairman John C. Syling is faced with the job of getting the boys to Butler by 6 a. m., where the bus will pick up the Lawrence county group. He is trying to secure a school bus for this purpose.

The boys are to be at the bus terminal in Butler by 6 a. m. July 13. Returning home the boys will leave Indian Gap on July 28 at 9 a. m. and arrive back here at 5 p. m.

New Castle And Uniontown Will Play Double-Header Here Tonight

Karakul And Cook Will Do Pitching

Rain shortly after 7 o'clock last evening, following the heavy downpour of the late afternoon, caused the postponement of the scheduled New Castle and Uniontown Mid-Atlantic league game, at P. J. Flaherty Memorial field.

The teams will engage in a double-header tonight, the first game starting at 7 o'clock (weather permitting), Manager Billy Mongiello announced.

Quite a number of fans were at the field shortly after seven o'clock when it was deemed advisable to call the game off. Both teams had completed their batting drills.

Manager Mongiello has nominated Bob Cook and Joe Karakul to do the Nats' chugging tonight, providing the weatherman gives out with a little sunshine.

Cook will work the first game, seven-inning affair and Karakul will work the nine-inning night-cap contest. Karakul will be after his third win for the Nats. Cook will be looking for his second victory.

The New Castle fans will get their first glimpse of the new second-sacker tonight, Billy Allen of Pittsburgh, who joined the team at Erie last Tuesday. Allen formerly played at Rome N. Y.

New Castle can get out of the cellar tonight with a double win over the Coal Barons, while the Nats have yet to crack the win column for the second half, in five times out.

"We're bound to get going soon, with a new infield lineup, of Maier at third, Miranda at short, Allen at second, and Kiel at first," Mongiello sighed today.

Kiel Seeks 13th
Herman Kiel is anxiously awaiting for that 13th homer, and may get it tonight, he contends. Kiel has been rapping the ball hard, but has been robbed lately by fast fielding.

New Castle goes to Oil City Friday and Saturday and will return here Sunday and Monday with the Youngstown Athletics furnishing the opposition.

Ty Corbett Reporting
The Nats have signed up Ty Corbett the veteran Beaver Valley star who was with the Chiefs last year, is a handy man to have around as he can play any position. Corbett will report here Saturday or Sunday, in time for the Youngstown series.

The Nats are rather crippled up—Mike Gipp is limping with a charley horse, Miranda and Torrey are still nursing injured legs and Manager Mongiello is still nursing a badly bruised shoulder, but hopes to get back into the lineup very shortly. Giardullo has been put on the disabled list with a sore arm.

Sign With Eagles

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—(INS)—Jack Ferrante, who rose from the sandlots to big-time football without going to college, and Vic Sears, one of the best tackles in the business have signed their 1949 contracts with the Philadelphia championship Eagles.

Singing of Ferrante, dubbed "blackjack" by his fans, completes the Eagles' end corps for coach Greasy Neal. Ferrante caught 28 passes for 444 yards and seven touchdowns last season.

Sears, who joined the club in 1941, direct from the Oregon State campus, has been a consistent regular in the line, and experienced his best season last year.

Rodgers Assesses

Fine, Suspension

Howard W. Rodgers, president of the North County league has assessed a fine of $5.00 and a ten-day suspension on Austin Johns of the Brent team, for having been found guilty of having threatened an umpire in the Lawrence County Umpires Association.

The hearing was held at the New Castle Y July 5th. John Serwatka, manager of the Brent team was found not guilty on the same charge due to insufficient evidence.

CONGREGATIONALS

DOWN CENTRAL

Chuck Reider pitched First Congregational to a 12-4 win over Central Presbyterian on Wednesday night. It was the sixth league win for Reider.

Morgan, Connors and Jones helped out with the heavy hitting while the losers were limited to six hits.

Tonight First Congregational will meet First Christian at Gaston park.

Top City League Teams To Battle

Baseball fans of the vicinity will get their first chance to see two of the best city league teams in action at Flaherty field Friday night when the league-leading Universals meet the second-place Lawrence Indies in a regular league game.

The rivalry between the two teams is intense and one of the best games of the season is expected.

Rainey vs Shelar

Manager "Huck" Davies of the "pottery gang" will use the old reliable "Monk" Rainey in order to stop the heavy hitting Indies. "Hoss" Zidow, the genial pilot of the Indies, will counter with his ace, the capable Wayne Shelar. Shelar, just back from Youngstown where he pitched for the Athletics, is one of the finest young pitchers in the vicinity.

Potters Favored

Universals, backed by the heavy hitting of Fazzone, Rozzano, Evonok and Rainey, will be slight favorites for the tussle.

The two teams have met twice this year and the Universals took both games. The Indies figure that Friday night's third attempt will be the charm, so a great battle is in store.

Hostilities will start promptly at 8:15. With a break in the weather the stands of Flaherty field will be jammed to see these genuine rivals in action.

Hunch Players Figure Pirates Will Finish In First Division

By JOHN GOLIGHTLY

(International News Service Sports Writer)

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—A sizeable group of hunch players has taken a flyer on the Pirates to finish in the first division. And it isn't really as unreasonable a bet as you might think.

The Bucs are comfortably submerged in sixth place but their possibilities are infinite, especially since the race now appears to be between St. Louis and Brooklyn.

About seven games span the gap between third and fourth. New York is several games behind, and although the Giants haven't been able to win on the road, they still could be mighty tough.

That's the three clubs Pittsburgh must begin to vanquish to reach the first division.

Schedule Advantage

The wise boys think Bill Meyer's team has enough strength coupled with the schedule advantage to make them look like seers.

It seems reasonably certain that if the National League pitchers don't find a way to stop rookie Dino Restelli, the Pirate outfield could carry enough of the attack to swing the bet.

Then there's the trio of left-handed pitchers—Chambers (4-1), Lombardi (3-1) and Werle (5-5)—who have tightened up the pitching. They are responsible for five of the six victories Pittsburgh has recorded in the last seven games. The opposition, admittedly, was weak. Yet Chambers and Lombardi, in particular, have been extremely effective. Little Lom is not the type who comes up with low hit games. He usually has men on base every inning but still happily manages to survive.

Pitching Depth

Chambers, who has the standard equipment—size, speed and a good curve ball, is one of those guys everyone expects to see blossom into a 20-game winner. Sometimes, like in the case of Carl Hubbell, it takes a long time of shuffling from club to club.

Bill Werle, like Chambers has an effective pitching repertoire.

The betting fraternity figures Ernie Bonham, Bob Chenes, Murray Dickson, Elmer Riddle and Rip Sewell at least give Pittsburgh as much depth as anyone in the first division.

They're wagering that although its quality may be limited, sheer numbers can carry it through.

When the Pittsburgh infield is examined, the odds against a Pirate climb to the first division become more understandable and cautioning.

Capable Catching

Collectively it averages (.238), something like 100 points behind the Restelli (.351)—Kiner (.336)—

Westlake (.310) outfield triumvirate. The catching is capable defensively with Masi (.216), Fitzgerald (.288) and McCullough (.206) but only Fitzgerald gets to first base.

These adverse statistics haven't discouraged the guys who like to clean up by taking the short end. They think Manager Meyer has kept the club from falling apart when everything was going wrong. And they're banking on him to continue just enough shuffling to maintain a last half drive.

The Bucs play six games at home, starting with St. Louis tonight, before the third swing through the east.

This brief home stand could be the indicator. Only nine games separate Pittsburgh from the .500 mark.

Bulla-Stranahan Have Tough Time

By THOMAS C. WATSON

(International News Service Sports Writer)

SANDWICH, Eng., July 7.—When better golf is played, competitors in the British open will play it.

Johnny Bulla, Verona, Pa., pro, and Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O., amateur, the two leading American contenders left in this year's classic at Sandwich, can testify to that today.

Both shot sub-par golf in the first round of the championship proper yesterday, but their 71's were not nearly good enough, although they are not yet definitely out of the running.

24 Beat Par

No less than 24 experts beat old man par over the tough St. Georges layout. Fifteen players are in front of Bulla and Stranahan. Willie Hunter, 57-year-old Los Angeles pro, is well down the list with 75.

The leader is Scotland's Jimmy Adams, with a sizzling 67. Adams is well known in the United States. He was a member of the British Ryder cup team which was beaten by American professionals two years ago at Portland, Ore.

WILL PLAY YOUNGSTOWN

The DeCarbo Bombers will play the Youngstown Jewelers at Dean Park tonight at 6 o'clock, in an exhibition game. The Bombers defeated the Ambridge All-Stars at Ambridge on the Fourth of July 6 to 2. Manager Sammy Calazza announced.

Dodgers And Cardinals Dominate NL All-Stars

NEW YORK, July 7.—(INS)—Brooklyn and the St. Louis Cardinals, with seven players each, dominate the National League's All-Star team, which will play the American League's best in next Tuesday's annual classic at Brooklyn.

Manager Billy Southworth of the Nationals caused considerable surprise last night with his pitching selections. He ignored such stars as Ken Heintzelman and Roberts of the Phillies, and Cincinnati's Ken Raffensberger.

Surprise nominees to Southworth's eight-man pitching staff were Don Newcombe, Brooklyn rookie, George Munger of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Ewell Blackwell of the Reds.

The staff will be completed by Ralph Branca and Preacher Roe of Brooklyn, Warren Spahn and Vern Bickford of the Boston Braves, and Howie Pollet of the Cardinals.

The other members of the 26-man squad were picked by the 4,637,743 fans who participated in nation-wide balloting.

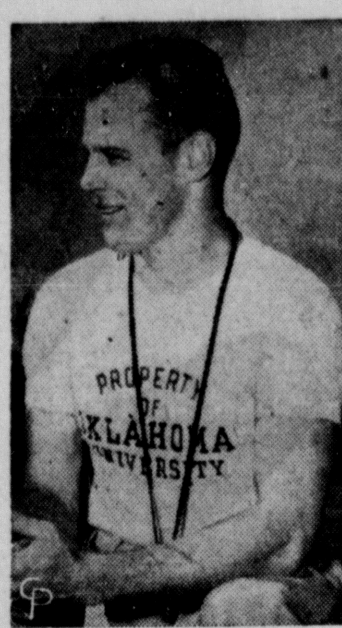

The starting lineup will be Johnny Mize, Giants, 1b; Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn, 2b; Pee Wee Reese, Brooklyn, ss; Eddie Kazak, Cardinals, 3b; Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh, lf; Stan Musial, Cardinals, cf; Willard Marshall, Giants, rf; and Andy Seminick, Phillies, catcher.

Reserve catchers are Roy Campanella of Brooklyn and Walker Cooper of Cincinnati.

Other reserves are: Infielders—Gil Hodges, Brooklyn; Red Schoendienst and Marty Marion, Cardinals; Sid Gordon, Giants; and Eddie Waitkus of the Phillies, an honorary selection.

Outfielders—Bobby Thomson, Giants; Enos Slaughter, Cardinals, and Andy Pafko, Cubs.

Coaches All-Stars

A FORMER All-Star player himself, Charles (Bud) Wilkinson, youthful University of Oklahoma mentor, has been named coach of the All-Stars for their game with the champion Philadelphia Eagles of the National pro loop in Chicago Aug. 12. Wilkinson played in the 1937 game. (International)

Gus Zernial Given Hospital Release

CHICAGO, July 7.—(INS)—Gus Zernial, injured Chicago White Sox rookie outfielder, said today he will start drills Monday to get back into shape.

He was released yesterday from Mercy hospital.

The outfielder suffered a broken collar bone in a game with Cleveland last May 28.

Zernial will begin working his shoulder actively in about three weeks and may get back in the lineup in August.

Walker Cooper Helps Cincinnati Win 23-4, Drives In Ten Runs

By LES CONKLIN

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 7.—The front office of the New York Giants apparently pulled one of the most colossal boners in the history of major league baseball.

Right after the war, the New York club paid the St. Louis Cardinals $175,000 for catcher Walker Cooper. Earlier this season, the Giants soured on the big slugger and traded him to Cincinnati.

Today, the faces of the New York brain trust are red. Cooper started to hit again as soon as he joined the Reds, and yesterday he looked worth $175,000 and more.

Three Homers

All that Coop did against the Chicago Cubs yesterday was to wallop six straight hits, including three three-run homers, and bat in a total of 10 runs. That RBI feat was only two short of the major league record.

The Reds won in a breeze, 23 to 4, and with their 26 hits hit new seasonal highs for runs and hits.

All other games were played under the arc lights. Two ten-game winners, Ralph Branca of Brooklyn and Vern Bickford of the Braves, made their All-Star rating look slightly "off" when they hooked up at Boston. Neither finished, although Bickford was credited with Boston's 7 to 5 victory, which enabled the Braves to tie the Phillies for third place.

Walker Cooper

The second-place Cardinals again muffed a chance to tie the Dodgers for first place in the National League when the Pirates made five consecutive singles in the ninth inning, scored three runs, and nosed out the Red Birds 4 to 3. Johnny Hopp's single was the payoff.

George Munger, another All-Star, was the losing pitcher. Maybe this all-star business is a jinx as far as regular league competition is concerned.

The Boston Red Sox got a break when rain held off just long enough to let them squeeze in a

5 to 0 win over Washington, in five innings. Ellis Kinder held the Nats to four hits.

Indians Scalped

Chicago's White Sox walloped Cleveland, 9 to 6, behind a 17-hit attack.

The St. Louis Browns nosed out the Detroit Tigers 6 to 5 in 13 innings. Jack Graham hit two homers for the winners.

The games between the New York Giants and the Phillies, and the New York Yankees and the Philadelphia Athletics, were rained out.

Military Aide To President In Belligerent Mood

Returns From Three Weeks Vacation Trip—Riled At Query About Who's Paying Cost

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan maintained today that "it's nobody's damn business" who pays for his ocean vacation trips.

President Truman's military aide returned to Washington last night in a belligerent mood with his party of 11 persons after a three weeks trip which included a voyage to Guatemala.

He first attempted to elude photographers and newsmen when his train pulled into Union Station, and then threatened to punch one photographer on the nose if he took one more picture of him.

To newsmen who queried the general about the expenses of himself and his party, Vaughan snapped: "It's nobody's damn business."

Paid Own Way
But then he explained that each member of the party paid his own way, which estimated at $341 for travel plus about $231 each for hotel accommodations and "other expenses."

The militant presidential aide said that he paid about $2,000 "out of my own pocket" to cover the expenses of himself, his wife and two children.

The queries of the newsmen came after the United Fruit Line in New York refused to say who paid the boat fares for the party on the ocean voyage.

Vaughan declined to comment on his relations with James V. Hunt, ex-army officer mentioned in a government probe of so-called "five percenters" who obtained federal contracts for their clients on a commission basis.

"Close" Personal Friend
Hunt allegedly described Vaughan as one of his "close" personal friends.

When photographers continued to take pictures of the White House aide, Vaughan snapped at one of them: "No more pictures."

The photographer, representing one of the Washington newspapers, set his camera to take another shot, and Vaughan cried out:

"How would you like a punch on the nose?"

The photographer disregarded the threat, however, took the picture.

MAY FOREST FIRES

BURN 18,000 ACRES

HARRISBURG, July 7.—(INS)—According to officials of the Pennsylvania department of forests and waters there were 865 forest fires in the state during the month of May.

Approximately 18,000 acres of public and private land were burned over, destroyed much valuable food and cover for wildlife.

Trophy Collector

NEW Wimbledon tennis champ, Ted Schroeder is shown at LaGuardia Field, N. Y., with some of the trophies he won abroad. The 27-year-old player said he's going home to La Cresscenta, Cal., to "go to work."

Order Perjury Charge Against Former Official

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—The house un-American activities committee voted unanimously today to initiate perjury proceedings against Thoma Babin, a former Yugoslav consulate official. The committee members said that the recorded testimony of Babin and a government handwriting expert will be turned over to the justice department for possible prosecution. The committee contends that Babin, who is now facing deportation, lied under oath when he told the house spy probers on May 27 that he had never engaged a New York hotel room for a meeting in 1947.

Boy Confesses He Killed Child

CHICAGO, July 7.—(INS)—A 13-year-old Chicago boy confessed to police today that he hanged Thomas Laux, 3, last night because the child stole his kitten and hid it in an automobile.

Deny Former King Carol Is Seeking Divorce

LISBON, July 7.—(INS)—The court chamberlain and other members of former King Carol's entourage denied flatly today that Carol is planning to divorce his wife, the former Magda Lupescu.

Ernest Udreaanu, for many years a close confidant of the ex-Romanian monarch, said: "The reports are entirely untrue. King Carol and his wife are on the best of friendly terms."

That Carol is planning to divorce Mme. Lupescu, whom he married two years ago in Rio de Janeiro when she was thought to be dying, was reported yesterday by Cholly Knickerbocker, society columnist of the New York Journal-American. Knickerbocker speculated that the former king might want the divorce to facilitate his return to the Roumanian throne which his son Michael was forced to abdicate after communists took power in Roumania.

Criminal Assault Charge Is Faced

CARLISLE, Pa., July 7.—(INS)—Theodore J. Morris, 22, Lebanon, accused of criminally assaulting an 18-year-old suburban Harrisburg girl, was in Cumberland County jail today pending a grand jury's action.

He waived a hearing at Carlisle before Justice of the Peace William Dosh.

State Police Cpl. Joseph Salzinger said Morris was taken into custody yesterday at his home on a complaint filed by the girl. Morris is married.

Salzinger said Morris and an unidentified Lebanon man "picked up" two girls in Market Square at Harrisburg, July 4, shortly before midnight, and went to the Municipal Bathing Beach on the Susquehanna river. The alleged attack occurred after Morris refused to take the girl home immediately, according to Salzinger.

Soviet Protests 'Unlawful Acts' By U.S. Officers

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—Soviet Ambassador Panyushkin today protested what he termed "unlawful acts" by immigration officers against the Russian steamship Dimitri Donskoi at Elizabeth, N. J.

The ambassador presented his protest to Undersecretary of State Webb. He declined to discuss with newsmen details of the "unlawful acts", which he said occurred yesterday.

The state department said the protest charged:

1. Immigration authorities refused to let the crew go ashore.
2. The master of the ship was permitted to go ashore only under guard.
3. The crew was questioned on political subjects.

The state department said that it has no information on the incident, but is taking the matter up with the justice department.

The Marcel Cerdan-Jake La-Motta middleweight fracas in Detroit attracted 22,183 spectators and a gate of $159,725 at a $20 top.

Summer Sunshine Adds Vitamin D To Blood Stream

HARRISBURG.—Soak up that summer sunshine to increase body building vitamins and minerals in the blood stream advises Anna de Planter Bowes, chief, Nutrition Division, Pennsylvania Department of Health.

A newspaper release issued today by the division stresses the importance of calcium, phosphorus and vitamin D during growth for building strong bones and teeth.

"Recent studies on adults and elderly people show that health is improved if adequate calcium and its best utilization are considered also in their daily plan of living," Mrs. Bowes said.

"A quart of milk for children and a pint or more for adults ensures adequacy of calcium. Exposure of the skin to the direct rays of the sun—gradually of course—increases the amount of vitamin D in the body. Vitamin D is necessary for the best and fullest utilization of calcium and phosphorus—the two minerals most needed for bones, teeth, and many other body functions.

"Increasing iron in the blood is a direct aid in combating anemia—commonly found among our citizens at all ages but particularly among growing children and women. Iron-rich foods are still important—but the combination of these foods and summer sunshine is a double edged weapon against anemia."

"Unfortunately, many individuals have scant, irregular meals during the summer with much 'piecing' in between meals of various kinds of soft drinks and sweets. They say it's too hot to eat a regular meal. Yet the foods they select, high in sugar, are heating to the body without giving the pep and staying power that are given by regular meals.

"Regular meals are important in summer. And for feeling best, include at least one good quality protein such as milk, eggs, cheese, meat of poultry at each meal."

Five nutrition points for a healthier summer were listed as follows:

1. Treat yourself to sunshine when you can drive most benefit from the ultra violet ray—but do it gradually.

2. Regular meals are important. Activity is often greater in summer than at other seasons. Something hot at each meal aids digestion.

3. Include a serving of high quality protein at each meal.

4. Enjoy and use the many green leafy vegetables available at this season.

5. Drink six to eight glasses of water daily.

MEAT CHICKEN OUTPUT DECLINES

HARRISBURG.—Pennsylvania farmers are cutting down on their production of chickens for meat due to declining prices received for live birds while feed costs show no change, according to federal-state surveys announced today by the State Department of Agriculture.

Influencing the downward trend in chicken meat production is anticipation of further price breaks, the survey revealed. Demand for baby chicks for meat production has weakened considerably, it was said today.

Hatchery orders for chicks for broiler production showed some weakness during April and May compared with earlier months when demand was especially strong, the department pointed out.

Commercial hatcheries of the state produced 8,180,000 chicks during May. This was 10 per cent more than for May 1948 but 20 per cent less than the 1943-47 average. Total hatchings for the January-May period totaled 18,368,000 chicks, or 20 per cent above the same period last year.

As of May 15, Pennsylvania farmers were receiving an average of 35.5 cents a pound live weight for chickens, a drop of more than a cent from April 15. There was little of no change in feed prices during the month, but the relation between feed and live chicken prices was less favorable than in April. Egg-feed prices were more favorable.

Pennsylvania egg production for May totaled 294 million compared with 312 million in April and 307 million in May 1948. The number of layers at 16,196,000 was six per cent below April and two per cent below May a year ago.

Drought Curtails Truck Crop Output

HARRISBURG.—Production of Pennsylvania commercial asparagus, lettuce, peas and strawberries suffered greatly from low temperatures and lack of moisture when the weather turned warmer the first half of June. Rainfall was only about one-eighth of normal.

Freezing temperatures the last few days of May, and on June 1 and 8, damaged summer vegetables in low places in northern and western areas of the state, according to federal-state surveys announced by the State Department of Agriculture.

Many asparagus growers quit cutting the crop a week to ten days earlier than usual. Late frosts and dry weather caused a generally short season for strawberries. Late crops of lettuce were hit by hot weather.

By mid-June sweet corn was making fair growth in southeastern counties. In central counties frost killed early planting and germination or replantings has been slow because of dry weather. Tomatoes were standing the dry weather well but were not making much growth in northern and central counties.
